Scholarships awarded to five area studentsBy JULIE MURPHY

Five of eight students in the 62nd Legislative District named recipients of the 2001-2002 General Assembly Scholarships are from the Antioch area.

Eric Green of Antioch and Christine Ann Strom of Lake Villa each received a one-year scholarship to the University of Illinois while Clarra Brown of Lake Villa, Eric Liebert of Lindenhurst and Michael Lencioni of Antioch each received one-year scholarships to other state supported universities such as Northern.

"This year's applications came from incredibly talent kids," said Rep. Tim Osmond (R-Antioch). "The students who were awarded the scholarships are very deserving of them."

"Each representative is allowed to disperse a certain amount of scholarship money," explained Linda Pedersen, legislative aide to Osmond. "Rep. Osmond chooses to give out four one-year scholarships to the University of Illinois and four one-year scholarships to state supported universities such as Northern and Western. He could give out one four-year scholarship to each instead, but prefers to do it this way."

Pedersen clarified that Osmond doesn't make the decisions himself, but has a committee of seven people from across his district review the applications and make the decisions.

"The applications are available on Jan. 1 and are given to schools throughout the (legislative) district and are available at our office," said Pedersen. "The deadline for the applications is April 1. I copy all of the applications and deliver a copy to each committee member personally."

Postal carrier food drive will fulfill critical needBy JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

The Antioch Post Office is gearing up for the ninth annual National Association of Letter Carriers (NALC) union food drive to be held on May 12.

"The key to the success is its simplicity," said postmaster Thomas Prince. "All residents need to do is to place a box or can of non-perishable food next to their mailboxes before their letter carrier delivers the mail on Saturday, May 12. The food is taken back to the carrier's postal station, sorted, and then transported to an area food bank or food pantry where it is available for needy families."

Last year Antioch letter carriers collected 12,400 pounds of food. Postal supervisor Jerry Bohmann said, "We almost overwhelmed the local food pantries. It was double from the amount of the previous year."

The food collected by the local carriers will be divided between the three local food pantries: St. Peter, Antioch and Antioch township.

"We have the rural carriers involved this year too, so we should collect more than last year," said Bohmann. "This is good because the food pantries are in critical need at this time of year. Most of their donations come in between the fall and the spring. This will hold them over the summer months."

Postal trucks will be stationed at the Piggly Wiggly grocery store on Orchard between 9 a.m.-2 p.m. on May 12 for those wishing to make donations there.

Union steward Todd Erickson said the results of past food drives are a clear indication of how carriers feel about their communities. "Letter carriers are the heart and eyes of the community, walking and driving through every neighborhood and up and down every street," said Erickson. "They see, firsthand, the need and recognize the hardship and despair that denies families even the basic necessities of life."

Nationally last year, 62.8 million pounds of food were collected and handed over to the needy. More than 1,500 NALC branches were involved and over 10,000 cities and towns participated.

Co-sponsors of the food drive with NALC are the U.S. Postal Service, the United Way of America and local United Ways throughout the country, and the AFL-CIO Community Services division. Other national supporters include the United Auto Workers/Saturn Union Partnership Initiative and Saturn retailers.

Local sponsors include local postal management, National Rural Letter Carrier Association and the American Postal Workers Union.

"We are proud to be able to serve as the means for our postal customers to help those who need assistance in their community," added Erickson.

Commendations given, mayor thanks for opportunity to serveBy JULIE MURPHY

State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion) and village administrator Tim Wells on behalf of Rep. Tim Osmond (R-Antioch) gave commendations to Mayor Marilyn Shineflug and trustees Marvin Oldenburger and Ronald Cunningham at their last village board meeting as elected officials. The Village Hall meeting room was filled. Shineflug said, "It's nice to see the room filled with so many happy faces."

Geo-Karis told both Oldenburger and Cunningham that they were unanimously accepted to receive Senate recognition for the many years of dedicated service they have offered Antioch. To Shineflug she said, "We're not always appreciated as we should be...I speak from experience as I once lost my re-election for mayor by 22 votes. You've done an excellent job for the Village of Antioch."

Similar sentiments were reflected in the resolution by the state of Illinois via Rep. Tim Osmond (R-Antioch) recognizing the mayor and two trustees as notable citizens.

Shineflug thanked Oldenburger and Cunningham and wished them a quieter life and more time to spend with grandchildren.

Oldenburger began his public service with an appointment to the plan commission in 1987, and was chairman from 1989-1993. He worked with the redevelopment commission from commission and as a village trustee from 1993-2001. Of him Shineflug said, "You continued to make decisions for residents based on reasoned and thoughtful analysis."

Cunningham was an active member of the Antioch Fire Dept. from 1959-1982. He was first elected trustee in 1973 and has remained a trustee continuously for 28 years. "What an accomplishment," said Shineflug. "Your deep commitment to our community, your willingness to listen to residents' concerns, combined with your cheerful disposition and polite manner have all contributed to your outstanding success."

The mayor offered her final thoughts to the residents of Antioch.

She said, "The one simple principle my administration has used to guide our decisions and action is to be fair and work in positive ways to do what is best for the village as a whole."

Shineflug encouraged newly elected officials to continue to work positively with local, regional and state elected officials. "In particular, efforts to persuade the Lake County Forest preserve board to purchase land that was offered to them on the Neumann Home site need to be continued," she said. "Negotiations already underway for additional Metra parking need to be continued. Current efforts to work closely with the USEPA and Waste Management regarding plans to remediate and monitor the landfill long term must be continued."

Shineflug thanked the village's employees, consultants and volunteers. She said, "I urge the new board members to meet these employees and volunteers, learn what they do for the village, and continue to work with them. Our residents need them and you will need them."

Shineflug mentioned how please she was that incoming trustee Bob Caulfield attended a SWALCO (Solid Waste Agency of Lake County) meeting with her.

"I always will treasure the accomplishments we have achieved and the friendships we have developed by working together throughout these years," said Shineflug in closing. "And, I always will consider it both a pleasure and an honor to have served with you my fellow board members. Your dedicated service made my job easier than it might otherwise have been. It has been a wonderful experience."

Local youths attend 4-H legislative event

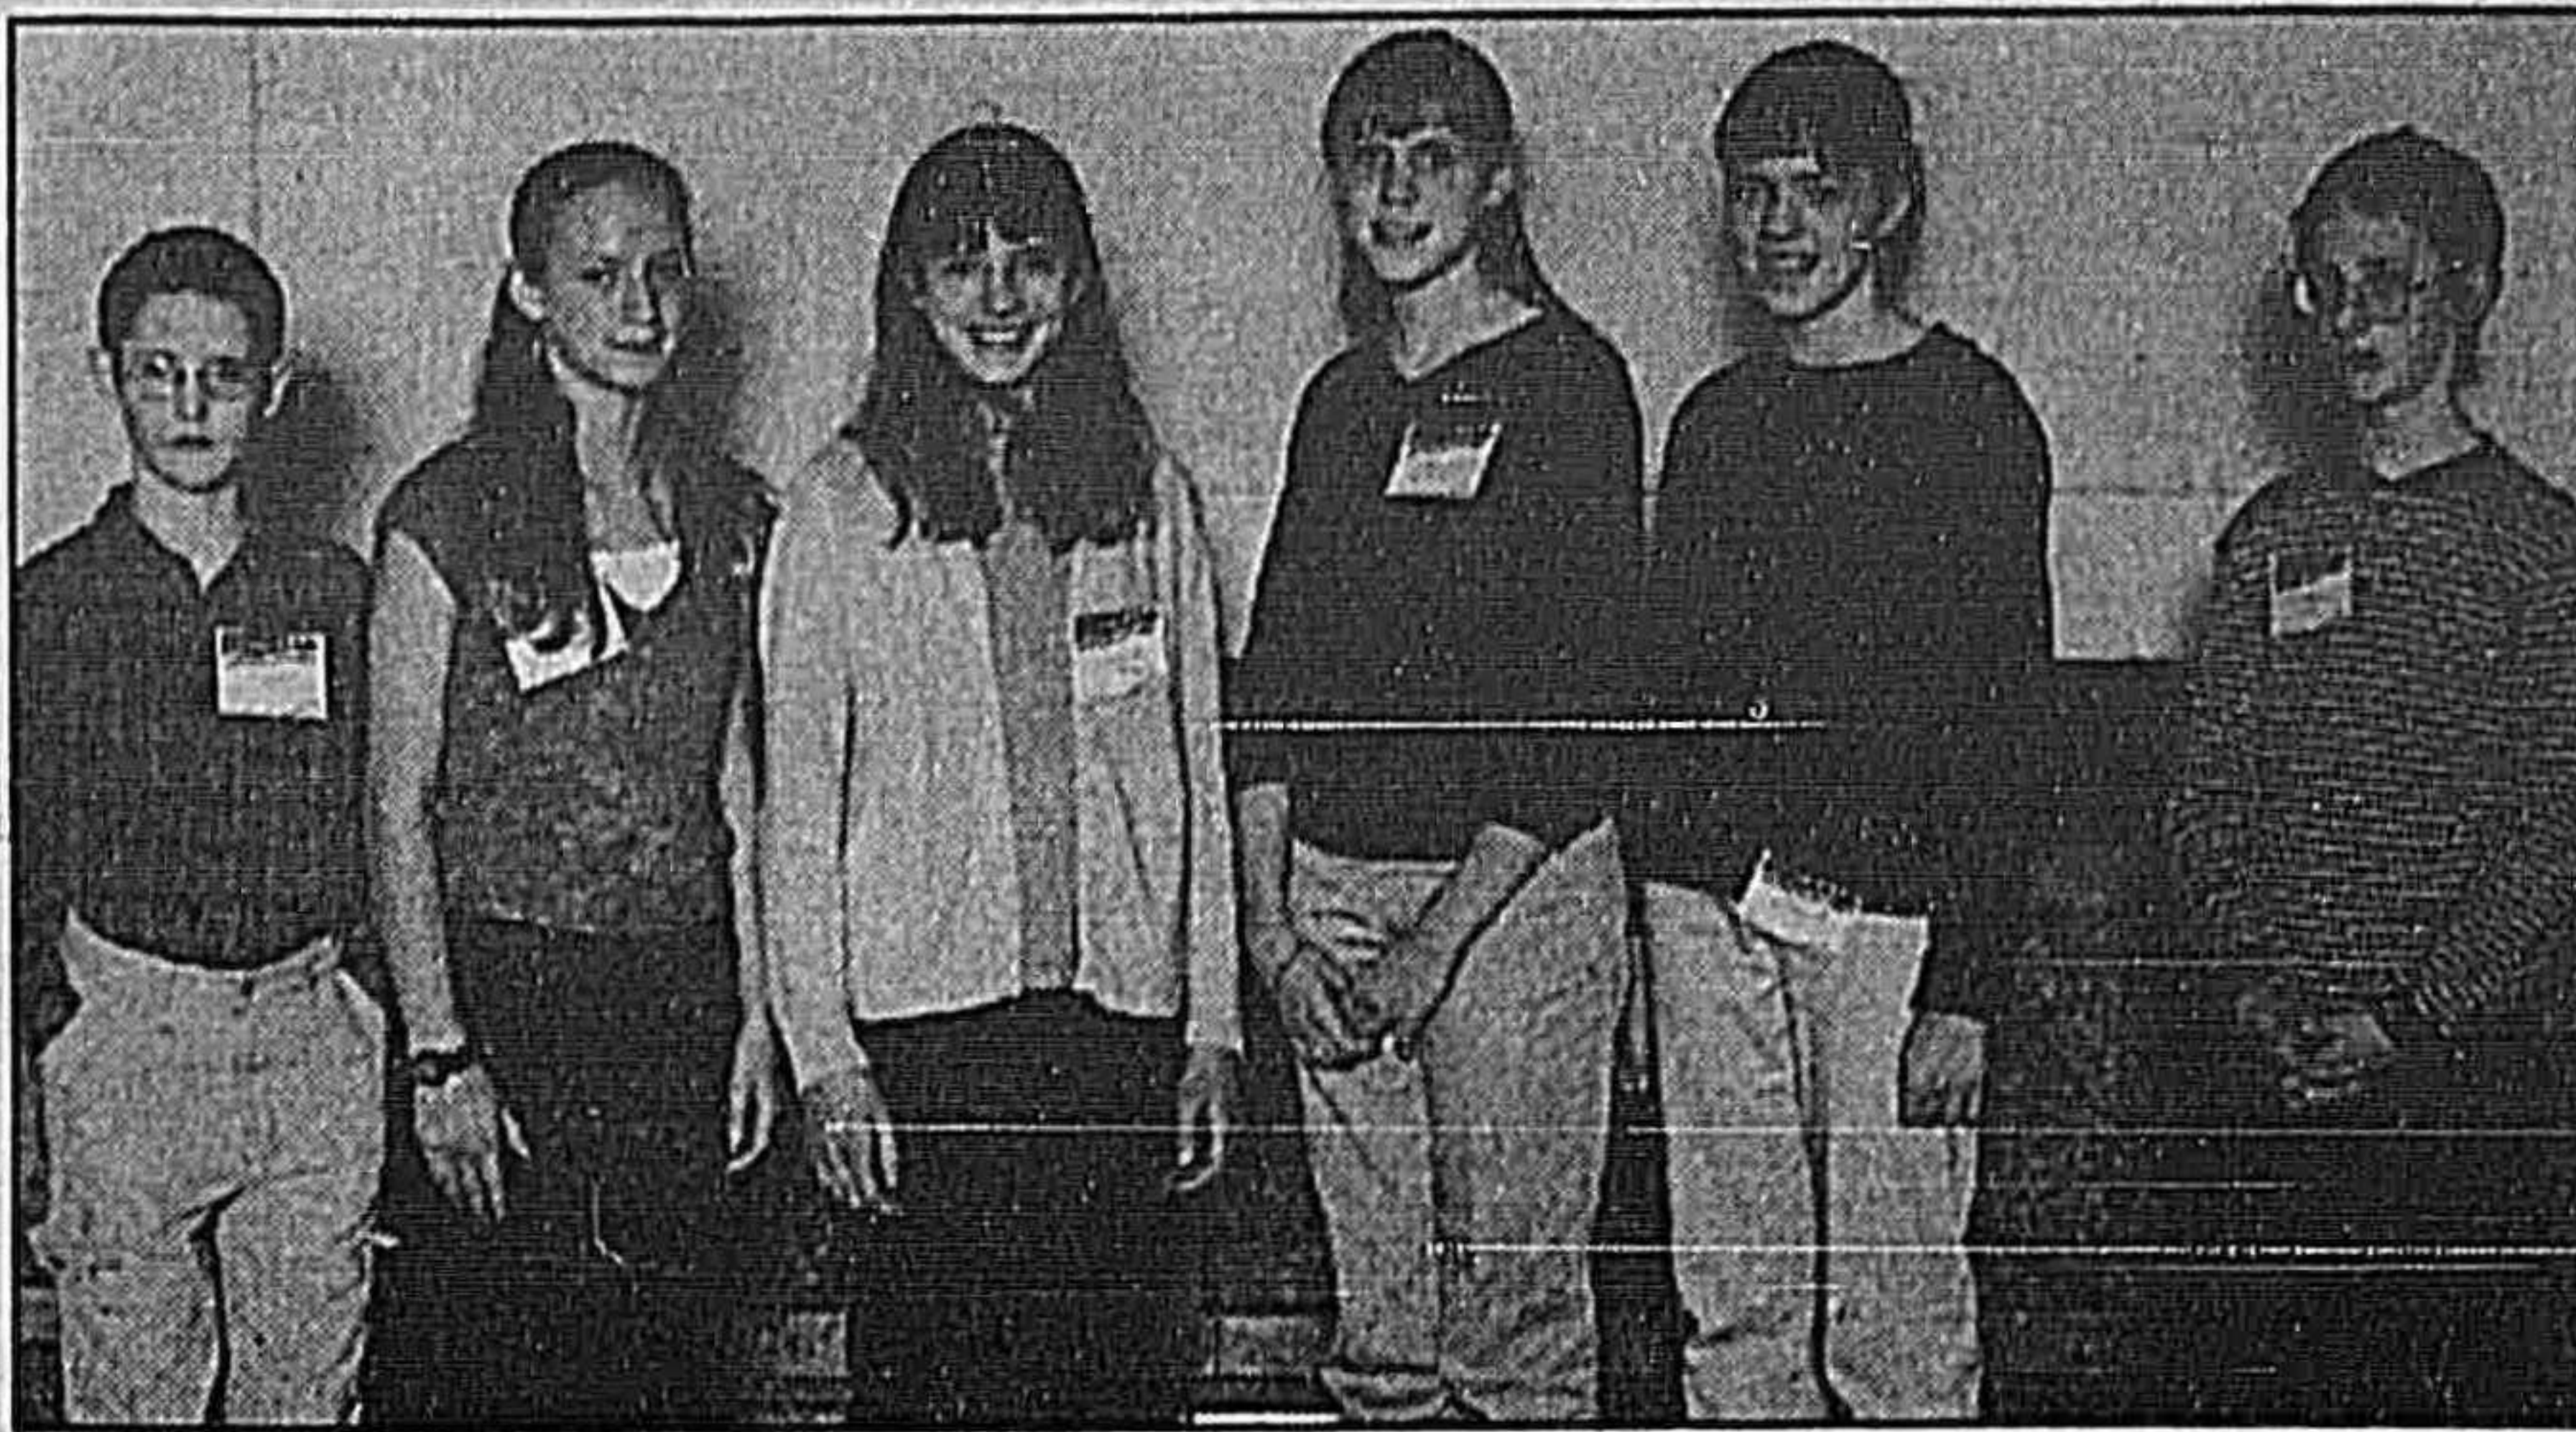

More than 2,000 4-H members are their families took a crash course in state lawmaking and displayed their award-winning projects during the 4-H Legislative Connection 2001 at the State Capitol.

Projects from last year's Illinois State Fair lined every hallway on the first floor of the State Capitol, providing a visual show of 4-H members' hard work and talents. Projects on display were the "Best of the Best" projects that won Superior Awards last summer.

During the one-day event, 4-H members and their families met with legislators, toured the Capitol Complex with visits to the House of Representatives and Senate, toured the Illinois State Museum and attended workshops to understand the roles of the state's executive officers.

"This was a unique opportunity for 4-H members and their families to get a first-hand look at how laws are made and to talk with their legislators," said Sharon Petefish, University of Illinois Extension Specialist, 4-H and Youth Development. "State officials, many of whom were 4-H members, seemed impressed by the vast display of projects that highlight the breadth of the 4-H program and the many talented young people who are a part of that program."

Savings bonds earned for student artwork

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Emmons School third-graders won individual savings bonds plus $175 for the school for their winning submissions in the Plumbing and Mechanical Contractors Council poster design contest.

Stephanie Plotsky won first place and a $200 savings bond, $150 went to second-place winner Anthony Cimaglio, Julianne Fine took third and $100, Sarah Balay came in fourth and won $75 while Paul Webber took fifth place and $50.

Art teacher Toni Leprich arranged for the third graders to enter the contest that took submissions from most of the Chicago collar counties.

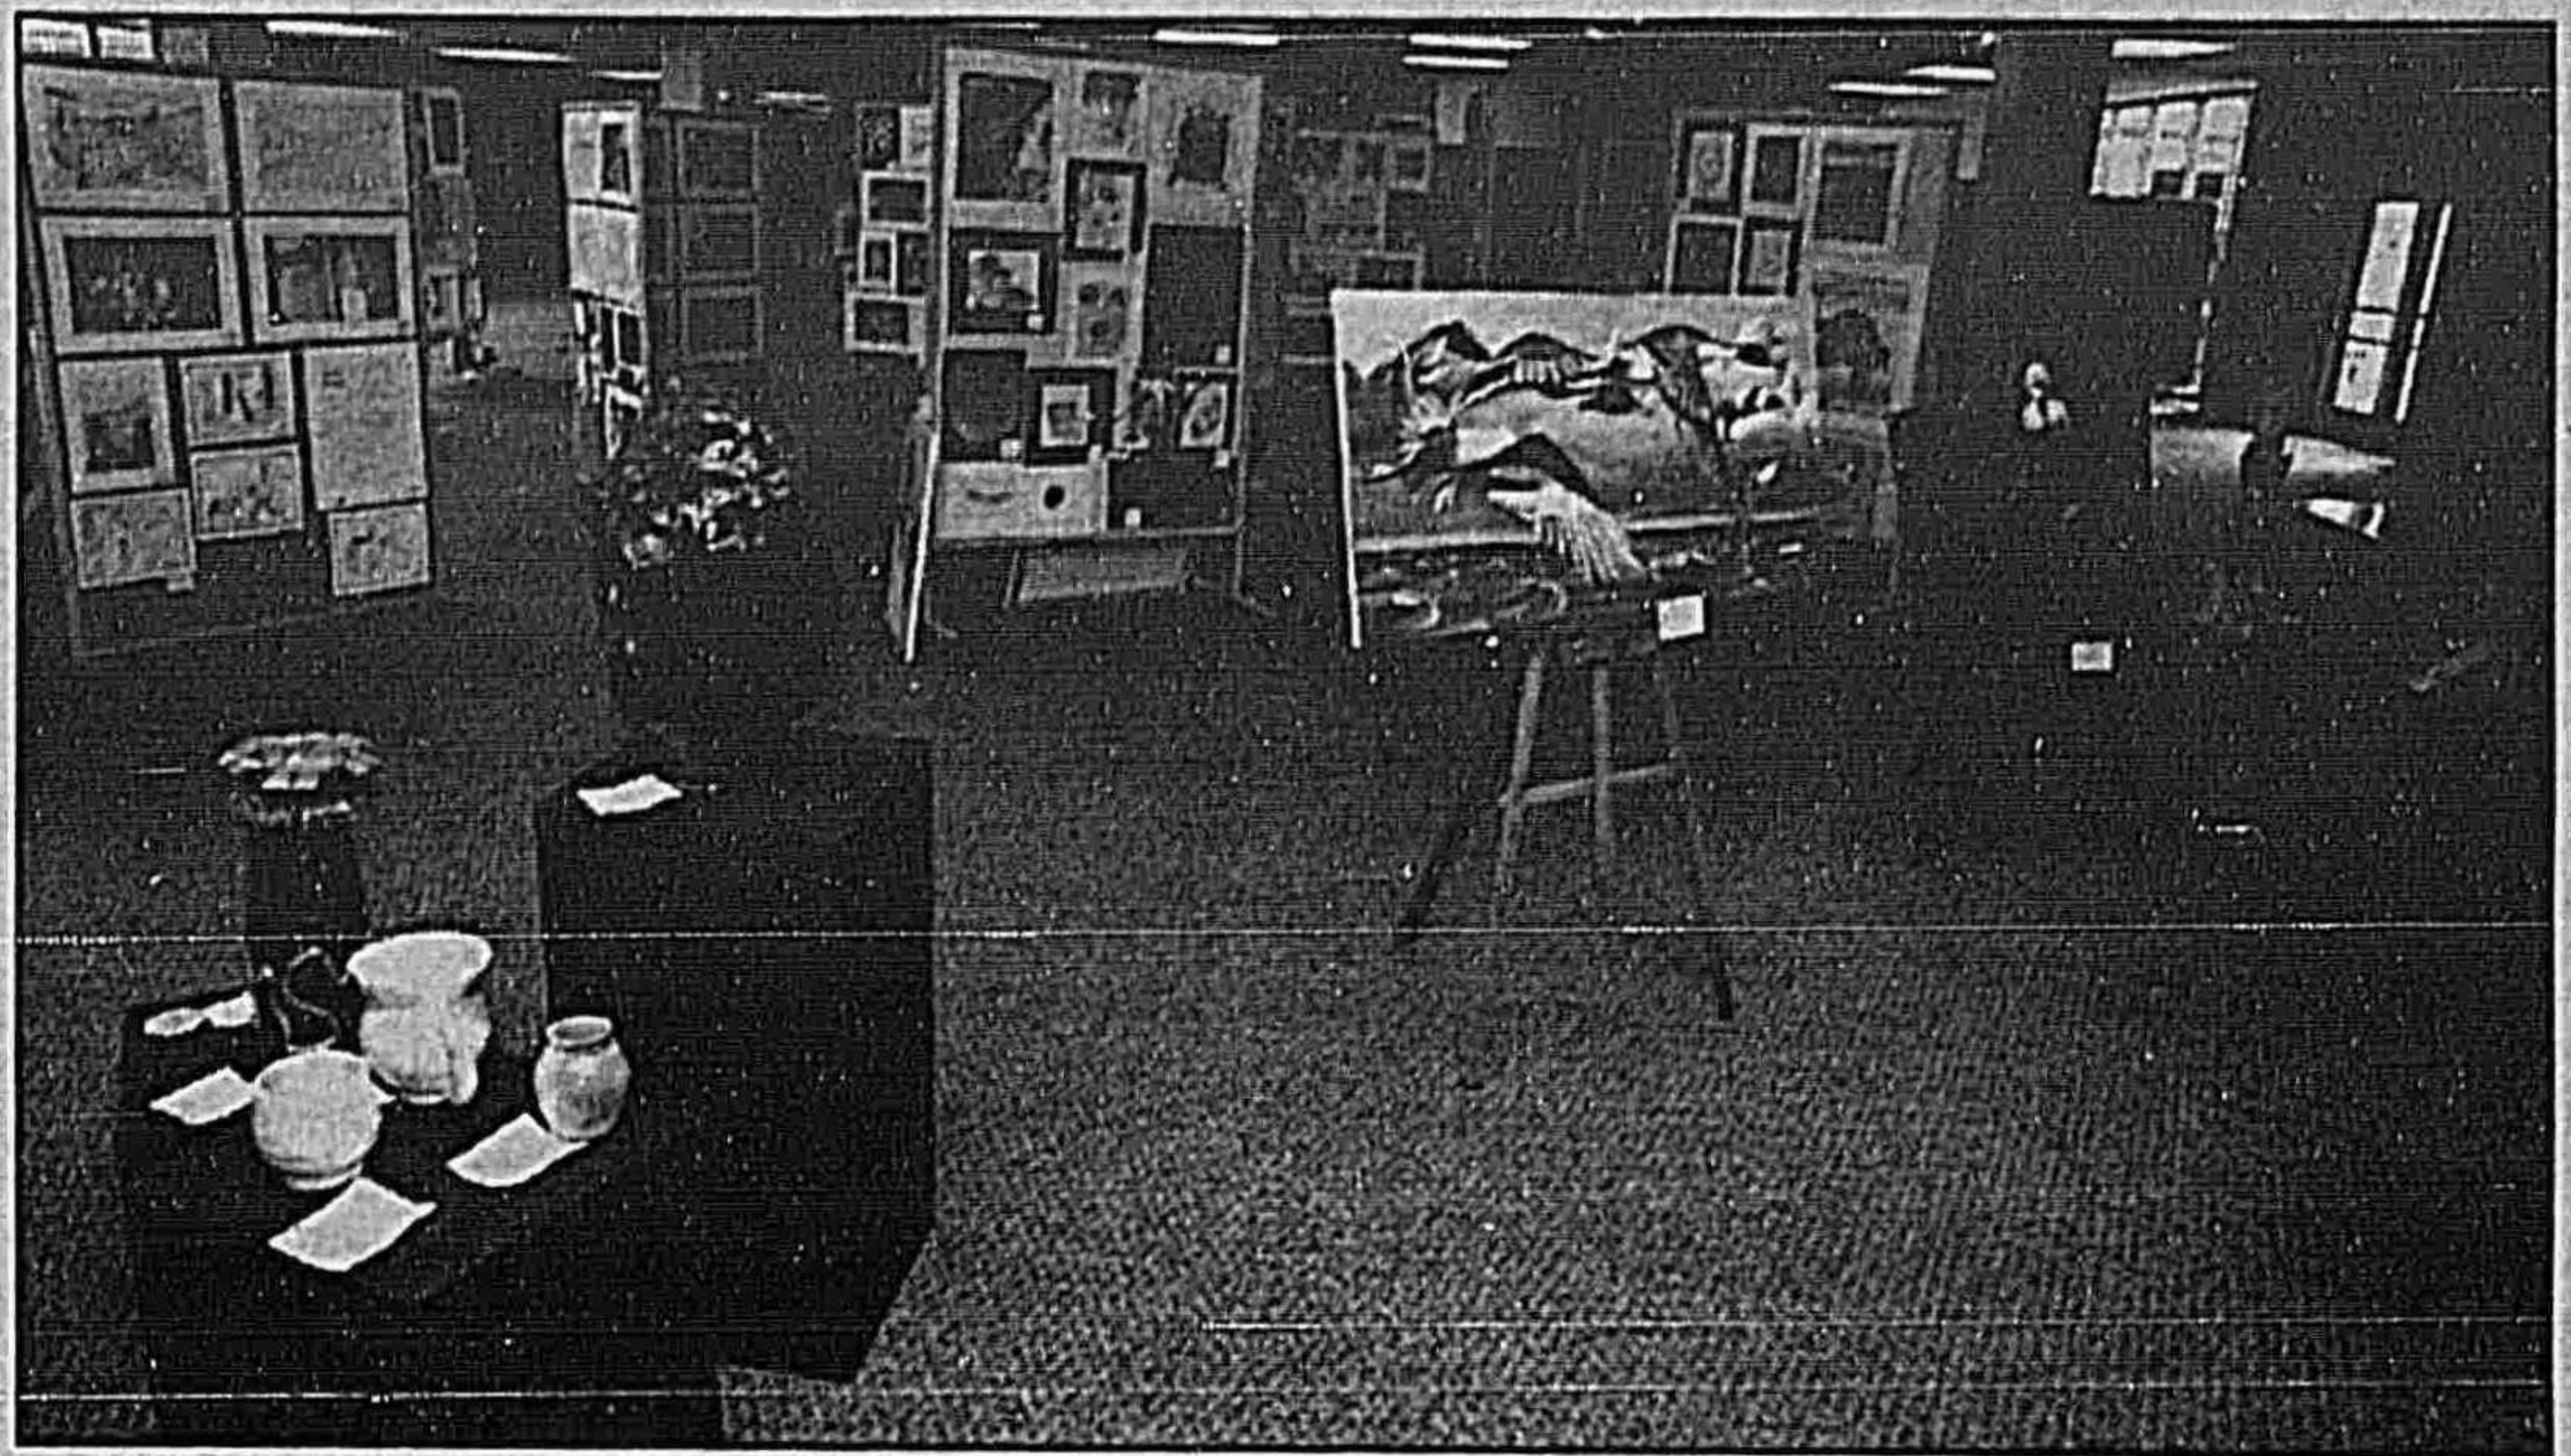

"We (the school) routinely get contest things and they get funneled to me through the superintendent, Matt Tabar, and the principal, Cyndy Vandrush, though most of them are for older children. This contest allowed younger students so I got the third grade in-involved," said Leprich.

"I worked with the teachers to combine math, science or social studies with the project. The third grade was going to be studying water, so I changed it a little to water conservation," Leprich said. "I have a graphic arts background so I told the students about how to make the posters easy to read and understand while being attention getting. It took a lot of preparation on the students' part."

Leprich brought about 50 submissions to the contest's local drop-off site: Colette and Ano Plumbing. She said, "Not all of the students were finished with their posters by the deadline, but I got as many of them in as I could."

Students learned an additional lesson about how money earns interest, and how savings bonds work. "We spent a lot of time going over how long they would have to hold onto the savings bonds before their full value is recognized," said Leprich. "It was an extra learning opportunity for them."

Governor announces grants for defibrillators

Governor George H. Ryan announced grants totaling $750,000 to 468 government agencies and emergency medical providers for the purchase of portable automated external defibrillators (AEDs).

"Studies have found that prompt use of defibrillators—before a person reaches the hospital—more than doubles a cardiac arrest victim's chances of survival," Ryan said. "The grants I am announcing today will help bring this life-saving technology to more areas of Illinois."

Dr. John R. Lumpkin, state public health director, said defibrillators can revive victims of sudden cardiac arrest with electrical jolts administered at precise intervals, and can stop irregular heart contractions and restore the heart's natural beating pattern.

Funding for the AEDs was included in the Fiscal Year 2001 budget for a one-time grant program to purchase and distribute the devices throughout the state. More than 550 applications were received from emergency medical services providers, local governments and law enforcement. Thirty-three grant recipients received money to purchase two AEDs and the remainder received money for one AED.

A selection committee made up of representatives from the American Heart Association and the Illinois Department of Public Health's Division of Emergency Medical Services and Highway Safety recommended those who should receive the AEDs. Rural and volunteer first responders and ambulance providers were given top priority, followed by local governments that demonstrated economic hardship, public buildings and law enforcement.

Each grantee will be provided with the funding necessary to purchase an AED through a state negotiated contract price of $1,497 from Laerdal Medical Corporation. The bid price for the Headstart FR2 Semi-Automatic External Defibrillator was about half the market price and allowed for the purchase of more AEDs than expected. In addition, the state was able to secure the special price for any governmental unit that would like to purchase an AED between now and March 31.

The following is a list of those who were awarded grants: Antioch Fire Department, Antioch Rescue Squad, Lake Villa Police Department,

2001 pageant deadline nears

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

The deadline for the 2001 Miss and Little Miss pageants is 5 p.m. on May 11. Laurie Stahl, director of the parks and recreation department said, "Applications being mailed in need to be postmarked by 5 p.m. on the 11th."

"We're very excited about the pageant for this year because we're doing a scholarship pageant," she added. We have $2,250 in scholarship money that will go to the winner of this year's event.

Letters went out to Antioch businesses seeking donations. The village engineering firm Clark Dietz donated $1,000, Raymond Chevrolet & Olds donated $500, the Antioch Jr. Women's club donated $300, the Antioch Rotary Club donated $250 and State Bank of The Lakes and First National Bank-Employee Owned (FNBE) donated $100 each. Additionally, FNBE is donating $100 to the queen's prize package.

"We are thrilled to be able to offer this to our queen this year and believe that it will help some lucky young lady fulfill her dreams of college, and also attract intelligent and goal-oriented young women to our pageant to represent Antioch in the best way possible," said Stahl.

The pageant winner will be able to use the money at the college of her choice, but will not receive the scholarship until the end of her reign.

Applications for the 2001 Miss and Little Miss pageants are still available at the parks and recreation department office located at 806 Holbek. "We would really like to see more people get involved in the pageants," said Stahl. "We haven't received too many applications for Little Miss pageant, and hope that many more will come in by the deadline."

The 2001 pageant will take place on June 16 at the Antioch Community High School Auditorium at 6:30 p.m.

"We are also excited to be back in the newly remodeled auditorium of the high school this year," said Stahl. "It will be very nice."

Early retirement program adopted, Wells may retire

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

The board of directors of the Village of Antioch voted to approve an ordinance adopting an early retirement incentive program for employees in the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund (IMRF).

Stated as one of the goals was that the village would realize substantial savings by allowing employees to retire early.

Village administrator Tim Wells announced his intention to consider taking advantage of this program in a letter addressed to the mayor and trustees. In the letter, Wells said he is considering taking retirement as of Aug. 10, 2001.

It was indicated that Wells has also made his intentions known to the IMRF.

Mayor Marilyn Shineflug said, "This does not obligate him to retire, but will allow him to retire under the IMRF."

The board unanimously accepted Wells' letter with one abstention.

Cinco de Mayo celebrates victorious moment in Mexico's history

The Cinco de Mayo holiday, celebrated on the fifth of May, commemorates the defeat of the French army by Mexico at the Battle of Puebla in 1862. While always celebrated vigorously in the state of Puebla, celebrations are increasing in number, size and scope in the parts of the United States with a large population of people with a Mexican heritage.

After Mexico gained independence from Spain in 1810, several internal political takeovers and wars, including the Mexican-American War and the Mexican Civil War of 1858, wiped out the national economy. Mexico accumulated heavy debts to several nations. Spain, England and France were demanding payment.

France, particularly eager to increase its empire, used the debt to establish leadership in Mexico. The French soldiers invaded the Gulf coast of Mexico and began to march toward Mexico City.

The United States was involved in its own civil war, and President Abraham Lincoln was unable to provide any assistance.

OUR TOWN

Julie Murphy

They encountered strong resistance at the Mexican forts of Loreto and Guadalupe. A small, poorly armed militia of about 4,500, led by General Ignacio Zaragoza Seguín was able to stop and defeat a well-outfitted French army of 6,500.

The victory was a glorious moment for Mexican patriots, though short lived. Napoleon found an excuse to send 30,000 more troops to Mexico in the year following to help his relative, Archduke Maximilian of Austria to eventually depose the Mexican army, take over Mexico City and name Maximilian as ruler, a reign that lasted only three years.

Today's holiday is a celebration of Mexican culture, food, music and customs unique to Mexico, and is being adopted into the holiday calendar of more and more people every year.

On a different though still festive note, Hannah's Home Accents on Lake St. will be celebrating spring with an open house on May 5.

Five exclusive items from the store's collectible lines will be featured for the first time at the event. Some of the store's exclusive items include two Boyds Bear plush bears, a Charming Tails piece, a special decorative watering can and a chair planter.

St. Peter School eighth grader Marilyn Krzus is sure to be celebrating as she has been named student of the month. She was presented her award by Mark Scarpelli of Raymond Chevrolet and Pat Dieveney the school's principal.

ACHS student receives $5,000 college scholarship

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Antioch Community High School (ACHS) student Peter Gillette will leave for college in Appleton, Wis. this fall knowing that about 25 percent of the costs will be covered by a scholarship he received from Lawrence University.

Gillette, the son of Deborah Gillette of Antioch, and Thomas Gillette of Richmond, is the recipient of a $5,000 Lawrence University Conservatory Performance Award. "In effect, the scholarship is worth up to $20,000 to $25,000," said Rick Peterson, manager of news services for the university. "As long as Peter remains a full-time student, contributes to the ensemble he's been assigned to and maintains a specific grade point average, he will continue to receive $5,000 a year while he's here."

Within the liberal arts college degrees as a Bachelor of Music and as a Bachelor of Arts are offered, as well as a double degree program.

"This scholarship is for students seeking a Bachelor of Music degree," said Peterson. "There is a program where students can attend a fifth year and earn a double degree." The scholarship would be renewable for the fifth year if this option is sought.

Peter is the trumpet section leader at ACHS, and was selected for the All-District and All-State bands. He sings in the school choir and madrigal ensemble.

Additionally, he is a student council representative and is the head copy editor of the school newspaper.

This year, Lawrence University offered 90 students this scholarship through its conservatory. "The number we extend depends on the quality of the applicants," said Peterson. "Not all of the students will accept - some will decide to go to other schools. Peter has accepted and will be starting this fall."

Police stopped a car for having no front registration plate. The identification of both the driver and the passenger was checked through LEADS.

Rich, the passenger, came back with a valid warrant for shoplifting through Round Lake Beach carrying a $20,000 bond (10 percent applies). The Round Lake Beach Police Dept. was notified and said the department would extradite Rich if he were unable to post bond.

While talking to Kaster, police detected the strong odor of alcoholic beverage on his breath. Kaster failed all field sobriety tests requested of him. He was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept.

At the police department, Kaster agreed to a breath test resulting in .088 blood alcohol concentration. He was put through booking procedures and issued citations for speeding, DUI, driving under the influence with a blood alcohol concentration of over .08, and operating an uninsured vehicle.

Advisory member questions use of weed killer

Recommendations to deal with Eurasian Mill foil in Lake Channel and Catherine came under scrutiny from a Fox Waterway Agency advisory committee.

Bill Liniewicz, an advisory committee member, questioned recommendations by Cochran & Wilken, The firm was hired by the agency to study the two lakes as part of the phase one for the Illinois Clean Lakes Program.

Liniewicz said his colleagues in the environmental management field had misgivings about the use of 24D to tackle the Eurasian Mill foil, a non-native species, problem in the Chain O' Lakes.

"Other weeds may come in and grow. Also, the use of shallow wells for testing may present a health hazard. The use of 24D could have an adverse effect on what the agency is trying to accomplish," Liniewicz said.

Another member said the 24D use is only for targeted areas. It would bring back native growing plants and increase the fish population, he said. "The 24D would only be part of it."

Liniewicz said his colleagues believe the study did not compare correctly with data in a study in 1980.

The advisory board's discussion will be sent to the full FWA Board.

In other FWA Advisory Board matters:

The June 4 meeting will be the annual tour of the Chain O' Lakes site. Members will see the geotube progress on Grass Island.

It was announced there is a vacancy on the FWA Board. Pam Althoff resigned her position after being elected mayor of McHenry in the April vote. Applications are being accepted at FWA headquarters, 45 S. Pistakee Lake Rd., in Fox Lake. The director must come from within McHenry County part of the FWA. Both counties have three directors' representatives.

The FWA is charged with the mission to improve and maintain the Fox River and the Chain O' Lakes public waterway from the Wisconsin border to the Algonquin Dam for recreational uses, to restore environmental quality, control flooding, promote tourism, and to preserve and enhance the quality of life along the FWA for residents and users alike.

Improvements approved for Main St. parking lots

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

After a check by village attorney Ken Clark to determine how many affirmative votes would be necessary to approve expenditures over $10,000 for a given project, the board of directors of the Village of Antioch had enough trustees present to approve parking lot improvements on the west side of Main St.

A presentation was made by Claude LeMere, community development director, outlining plans to re-stucco, paint, add awnings, make repairs to the lot, install a permanent planter and fence garbage containers into a combined area to offer a neater and matched look to the backside of the community building. J.J. Blinkers and the Schwinn store.

The total cost of the project will be $19,304 and will be financed with redevelopment funds. Each portion of the project was bid on separately. Of that total, $6,400 was allotted for the parking lot repair, $7,550 for the stucco repair, $1,925 painting, $868 for the awnings (for the community building only), and $2,561 for the fence.

"A provision in the statute allows you to go without public bidding," said Clark. "It sounds like it's one project (even though separate bids were received for each portion of the work.)"

Trustee Larry Hanson who is also on the redevelopment committee said, "We've been criticized by the west side (merchants) of the downtown area. It would be good to get this project done."

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

The Lakes Area Community Band, sponsored by the Festival Arts of Antioch is performing its annual pre-Mother's Day concert on May 6 at the Antioch Community High School (ACHS) auditorium at 2 p.m.

"Our band is continually growing both in numbers and musically," said the band's director Steve Porch. "We are very fortunate to have so many talented musicians play in our group just for the love of playing music, and it shows in every concert we perform."

The program for this performance includes "Light Cavalry Overture" a march by Suppe, a special saxophone feature, the theme song from the popular television show "West Wing" and a selection from the musical "Oliver" as well as others. Additionally, there will be performances by the brass choir, a flute ensemble and a tuba solo with band accompaniment.

"This is one of my favorite concerts of the year," said Porch. "We always have a great turnout, wonderful support from the community and a great time making music together. It doesn't get much better than this."

The concert is performed free of charge. The doors open at 1 p.m. for the best seating selection. Complimentary refreshments will be served after the concert.

The best access to the auditorium is from the north side parking lot of the high school.

The case of the missing bicycle

I received a frantic phone call from the Old Retired Lizard last week regarding how someone had actually stolen her beloved old bicycle. She had left it parked at the corner of Grass Lake Rd. and Bluff Lake Rd. (the family Skandia House Restaurant corner), as she had done for several days, as she car-pooled off to work. Her hubby was scheduled to pick it up in his truck shortly thereafter and return it to the Schmehl carport where it would sit and wait for its owner to return home after a hard day at Camp Crayon. But last Thursday, April 26, when hubby got to the designated corner, there was no bike. And that is when the Old Retired Lizard panicked.

Now folks, I have seen this missing bike, and I'm here to tell you: If Rent-a-Wreck had a bicycle division, this bike would be its poster child. It is an old, broken down contraption with rusty old rims, wide mountain bike tires and coaster brakes. It has no fenders, no speeds and nobody in their right mind would be caught dead riding it, let alone stealing the thing. It also comes equipped with the very fashionable, one of a kind, bright orange milk crate attached to the handlebars.

The only thing of any value on the bike was the new side mirror Ms. Liz had just bought to compliment the loose, dangling one that was already in place on the handlebars. This gave her total rear vision in the event someone tried to run her down, thinking they were doing her a favor by putting her bike out of its misery. This would enable her to catch the license plate number of the vehicle before she lost consciousness from the blow, to thank them for their good deed.

But her most favorite feature of the apparatus, the one she misses dearly, is the wide, over-sized, over-padded seat that conformed perfectly to Ms. Liz' wide, over-sized, over-padded seat. (I can say that because I am part of the big butt club).

JINGLE FROM PRINGLE

Lynn Pringle

Ms. Liz never felt compelled to chain the thing up, because she figured, based on merit alone, nobody would want the thing. Never the less the women is distraught and she was eager to engage my vast audience of Antiochans to help her locate her filched riding machine.

She has even considered putting up "Lost Bike" posters and placing a "Lost and Found" ad in that marvelously famous weekly shopper "The Advertiser." Now she stated that she isn't out to have anybody arrested or thrown in jail—she just wants her bike back. Leave it in the carport or leave it on her front lawn, she will ask no questions. Of course rumor has it that her children may very well be behind the whole robbery itself as they were quite embarrassed to have dear old mom racing around the neighborhood on the jalopy.

So, to whoever out there who was desperate enough to ride off on the decrepit old thing, if you can't find it in your heart to return the whole machine because you too have grown fond of it yourself, would you please be so kind and return at least the seat—the thought of breaking in a new one, at her age, is way more than the Old Retired One can face. Anybody with info call Mz. Liz at 395-5380.

And so goes another "Jingle from Pringle."

Readers with information for "Jingle from Pringle" should call Lynn Pringle at 395-6364.

Grade school holds book fair

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

The Antioch Lower Grade School (ALGS) will be holding a Scholastic Book fair the week of May 7-11 to raise money for the school's PTO, and to earn books for the school. The fair is open to residents with or without children enrolled in the school.

Books and learning products will be on sale from more than 150 publishers for readers of all ages. Traditional children's favorites as well as new works by popular authors and illustrators will be featured.

Debbie Prather, vice president of the PTO board and co-chairwoman of the book fair said, "The money raised will go to the general PTO funds. We haven't earmarked the money for any special project."

One goal of the fair is to build classroom libraries. Visitors are invited to purchase and donate requested books for any of the teachers' classroom libraries. These books will become a permanent part of the classroom library. Each gift will be recognized with a bookplate identifying the family or child as the donor. "The (regular) library will get a lot of free books as part of our arrangement with Scholastic," said Prather. "The librarian uses them as prizes for the kids who bring their library books back on time, so she goes through quite a lot of them over the course of the year."

Daytime book fair hours are from 8:30 a.m.-3:15 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, and from 8:30 a.m.-2:30 p.m. on Wednesday. There will be evening book fair hours on Tuesday and Thursday from 6-9 p.m.

During the evening hours, Clifford the big red dog and Curious George will be at the Library. Parents are encouraged to bring cameras to take pictures of their children with these storybook characters.

Additionally, there will be two story times on each of the nights at 6:30 and 7:30 p.m. so parents can browse while their children are being entertained. Complimentary cookies, popcorn and refreshments will be served.

The book fair helps ALGS promote learning while raising money for school projects. For more information, call Prather at 395-3488.

Bird sanctuary at golf club

The Lake County Forest Preserves' Countryside Golf Club in Mundelein has retained its designation as a "Certified Audubon Cooperative Sanctuary" by the Audubon Cooperative Sanctuary System (ACSS), the educational division of Audubon International, endorsed by the United States Golf Association. Countryside Golf Club is one of 18 courses in Illinois and 300 courses in the world to receive this honor. Re-certification occurs every two years.

In 1993, Countryside joined the Audubon Cooperative Sanctuary program, which provides information and guidance to golf courses about how to preserve and enhance a wildlife habitat and protect natural resources. To become a Certified Sanctuary, Countryside was required to demonstrate a high degree of environmental quality in a number of areas including: environmental planning, wildlife and habitat management, public involvement, integrated pest management, water conservation and water quality management.

The Lake County Forest Preserves' Brae Loch Golf Club in Grayslake is also a certified Audubon Cooperative Sanctuary.

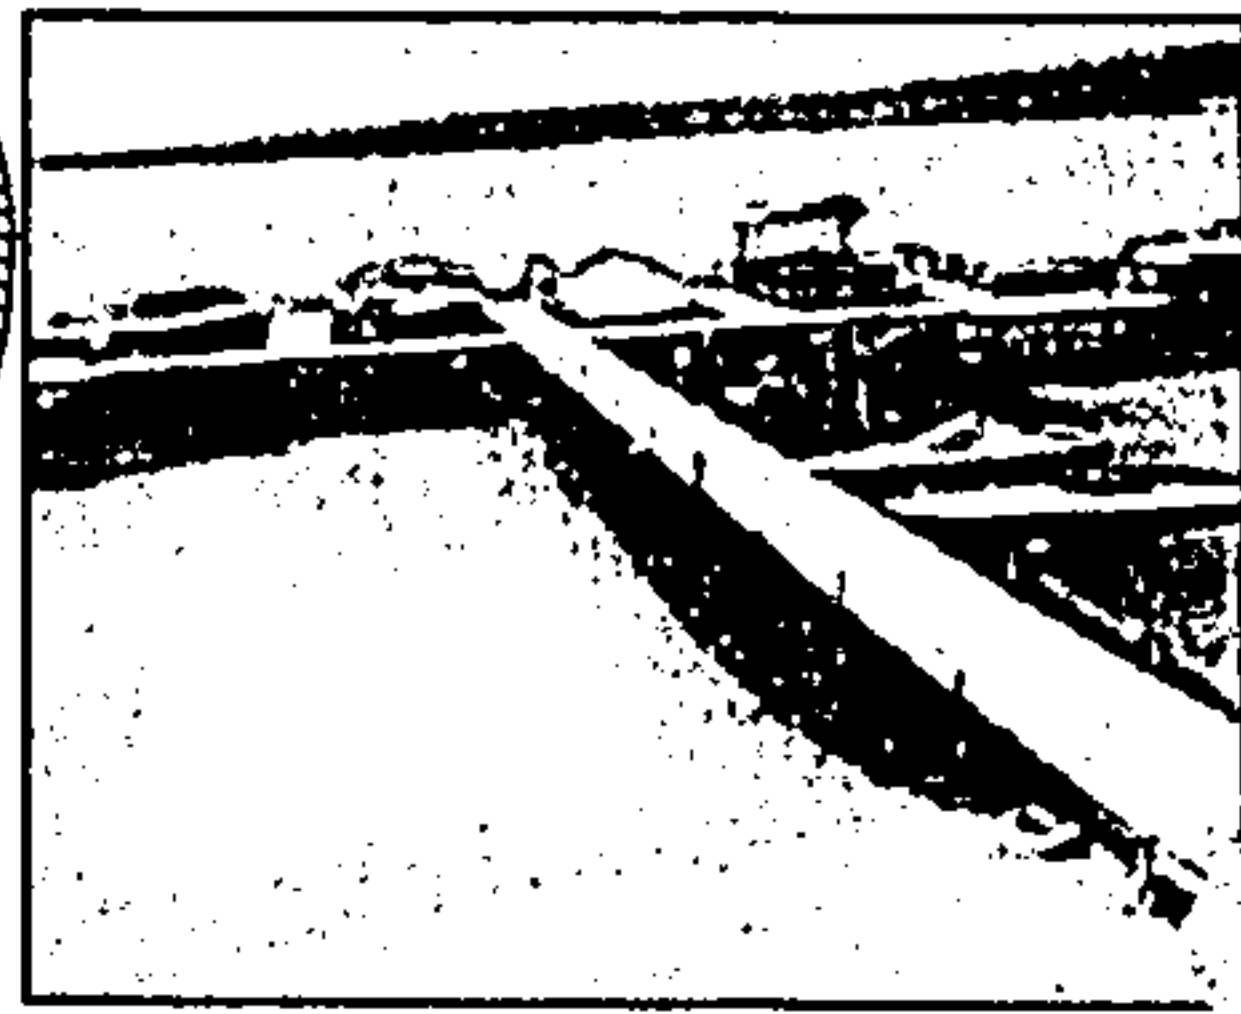

For more information on any of the four Lake County Forest Preserve golf clubs, call Thunderhawk at 872-HAWK; Brae Loch at 223-5542; Countryside Traditional and Prairie at 566-5544 or Fort Sheridan at 266-2120.

From the SIDELINES

John Phelps

So long, Ma!

It was quite the bittersweet weekend for yours truly. Surely you all remember Ma, my grandmother who passed away on New Year's Day of this year.

Well, amidst the tall pines and rolling terrain, Ma was laid to rest next to her parents on a postcard spring day April 28 in St. Paul, Minnesota.

It was bitter in a sense that I lost one of the most important people in my life. This woman basically helped raise me when I was a young lad. And, for all of those familiar, I would not be playing the crazy game of golf for the last 28 grueling years, for which Ma is owed all of the credit.

But while in St. Paul, the front-end of the aforementioned oxymoron was simple - all 22 members of the family, coming from all parts of the world, were on hand to celebrate Ma's life and in general, life itself. It marked the first time we had all been together since, oh, somewhere around 1990.

I finally got a chance to meet a couple of my cousins, whom for the most part, didn't realize I had.

Seeing Uncle Jimmy and his family, who ventured across the big pond from Amsterdam, always yields some of the best tall tales.

Jimmy, along with cousin Steve and my aunt and uncle, Mike and Ann, were instrumental in coordinating this momentous occasion.

The last remaining survivor from Ma's family, Nan Shellman, even made the trip across town for the ceremony. I hadn't seen Nan since the Sarasota days, the 1970s to be exact.

But Ma got what she wanted - the entire family being present for the services, which were performed by an Episcopal priest.

I paced back and forth on the beautiful terrain, reminiscing about the days when Ma would take me to Sarasota airport to watch the planes, sometimes for hours at a time.

Fittingly, Ma now has the opportunity to view Minneapolis-St. Paul airport, which was in clear vision from her grave site.

Misty-eyed, I gazed at the airport and something else came into play. My imagination: Looking carefully between the trees, I saw an opening that might give way to a short pitching wedge. Again, fitting for Ma. She can now watch the planes take off and in between, hit a few golf shots.

Very fitting - but more so, because the entire family was there. That's what she wanted and we weren't going to let her down.

Speaking of momentous occasions, May 12 will mark Antioch Youth Baseball's Opening Day at Williams Park in Antioch. It also happens to be AYB's 50th anniversary.

State Representative Tim Osmund, among other local dignitaries, will be on hand for the festivities. Opening ceremonies will kick-off around 11 a.m. The first pitch will then be thrown shortly after, kicking off a full day of baseball. All 54 teams will be represented.

Fox Lake Area Soccer Association will hold tryouts Sunday, May 6 for girls and boys ages 9-18 at Grant Township High School from 5-7 p.m.

There is no fee for the tryouts, which are for the fall traveling teams.

A second tryout date has also been slated for May 20, also at GCHS between 5-7 p.m.

And, another reminder that Mundelein High School will again be hosting the Second Annual Celebrity Basketball game.

The event will be held Saturday, May 19 in the main gymnasium. Doors will open at 5:30 p.m. with the West Oak Grade School Bands performing at 6:15. The basketball game will commence at 7 p.m.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK:

Who was the last National League baseball player to hit .400 or higher?

Answer to last week's question:

Byron Nelson won 11 consecutive tournaments. Tiger Woods is the only one to come close to that feat, winning seven straight starts in 1999-00.

Antioch soccer on a roll; wins State Line

By JOE PRUSKI
Correspondent

Going into this year's State Line Challenge soccer tournament, Antioch had one goal in mind - to repeat as champions.

But before achieving their goal, Antioch would have to overcome another more important roadblock - snapping their six-game losing streak.

And its first game against Mukwonago (Wisconsin) would put them over that hump. The Sequoits came away with a 4-1 victory in the first-round April 27.

Sophomore Robyn Mortenson delivered the first goal for Antioch before Lauren Hungarian, Emily Niles, and Lauren Konrath opened the floodgates and sealed the victory for the hosts.

"We played well. We didn't push as much (on defense) today. We held back, waited a little bit, and limited their touches," said Antioch head coach Charlie Trout.

After initially bringing the losing streak to an end, confidence was growing as Antioch went into their semifinal game the following day against Batavia, who beat Janesville Craig (Wisconsin) in penalty kicks.

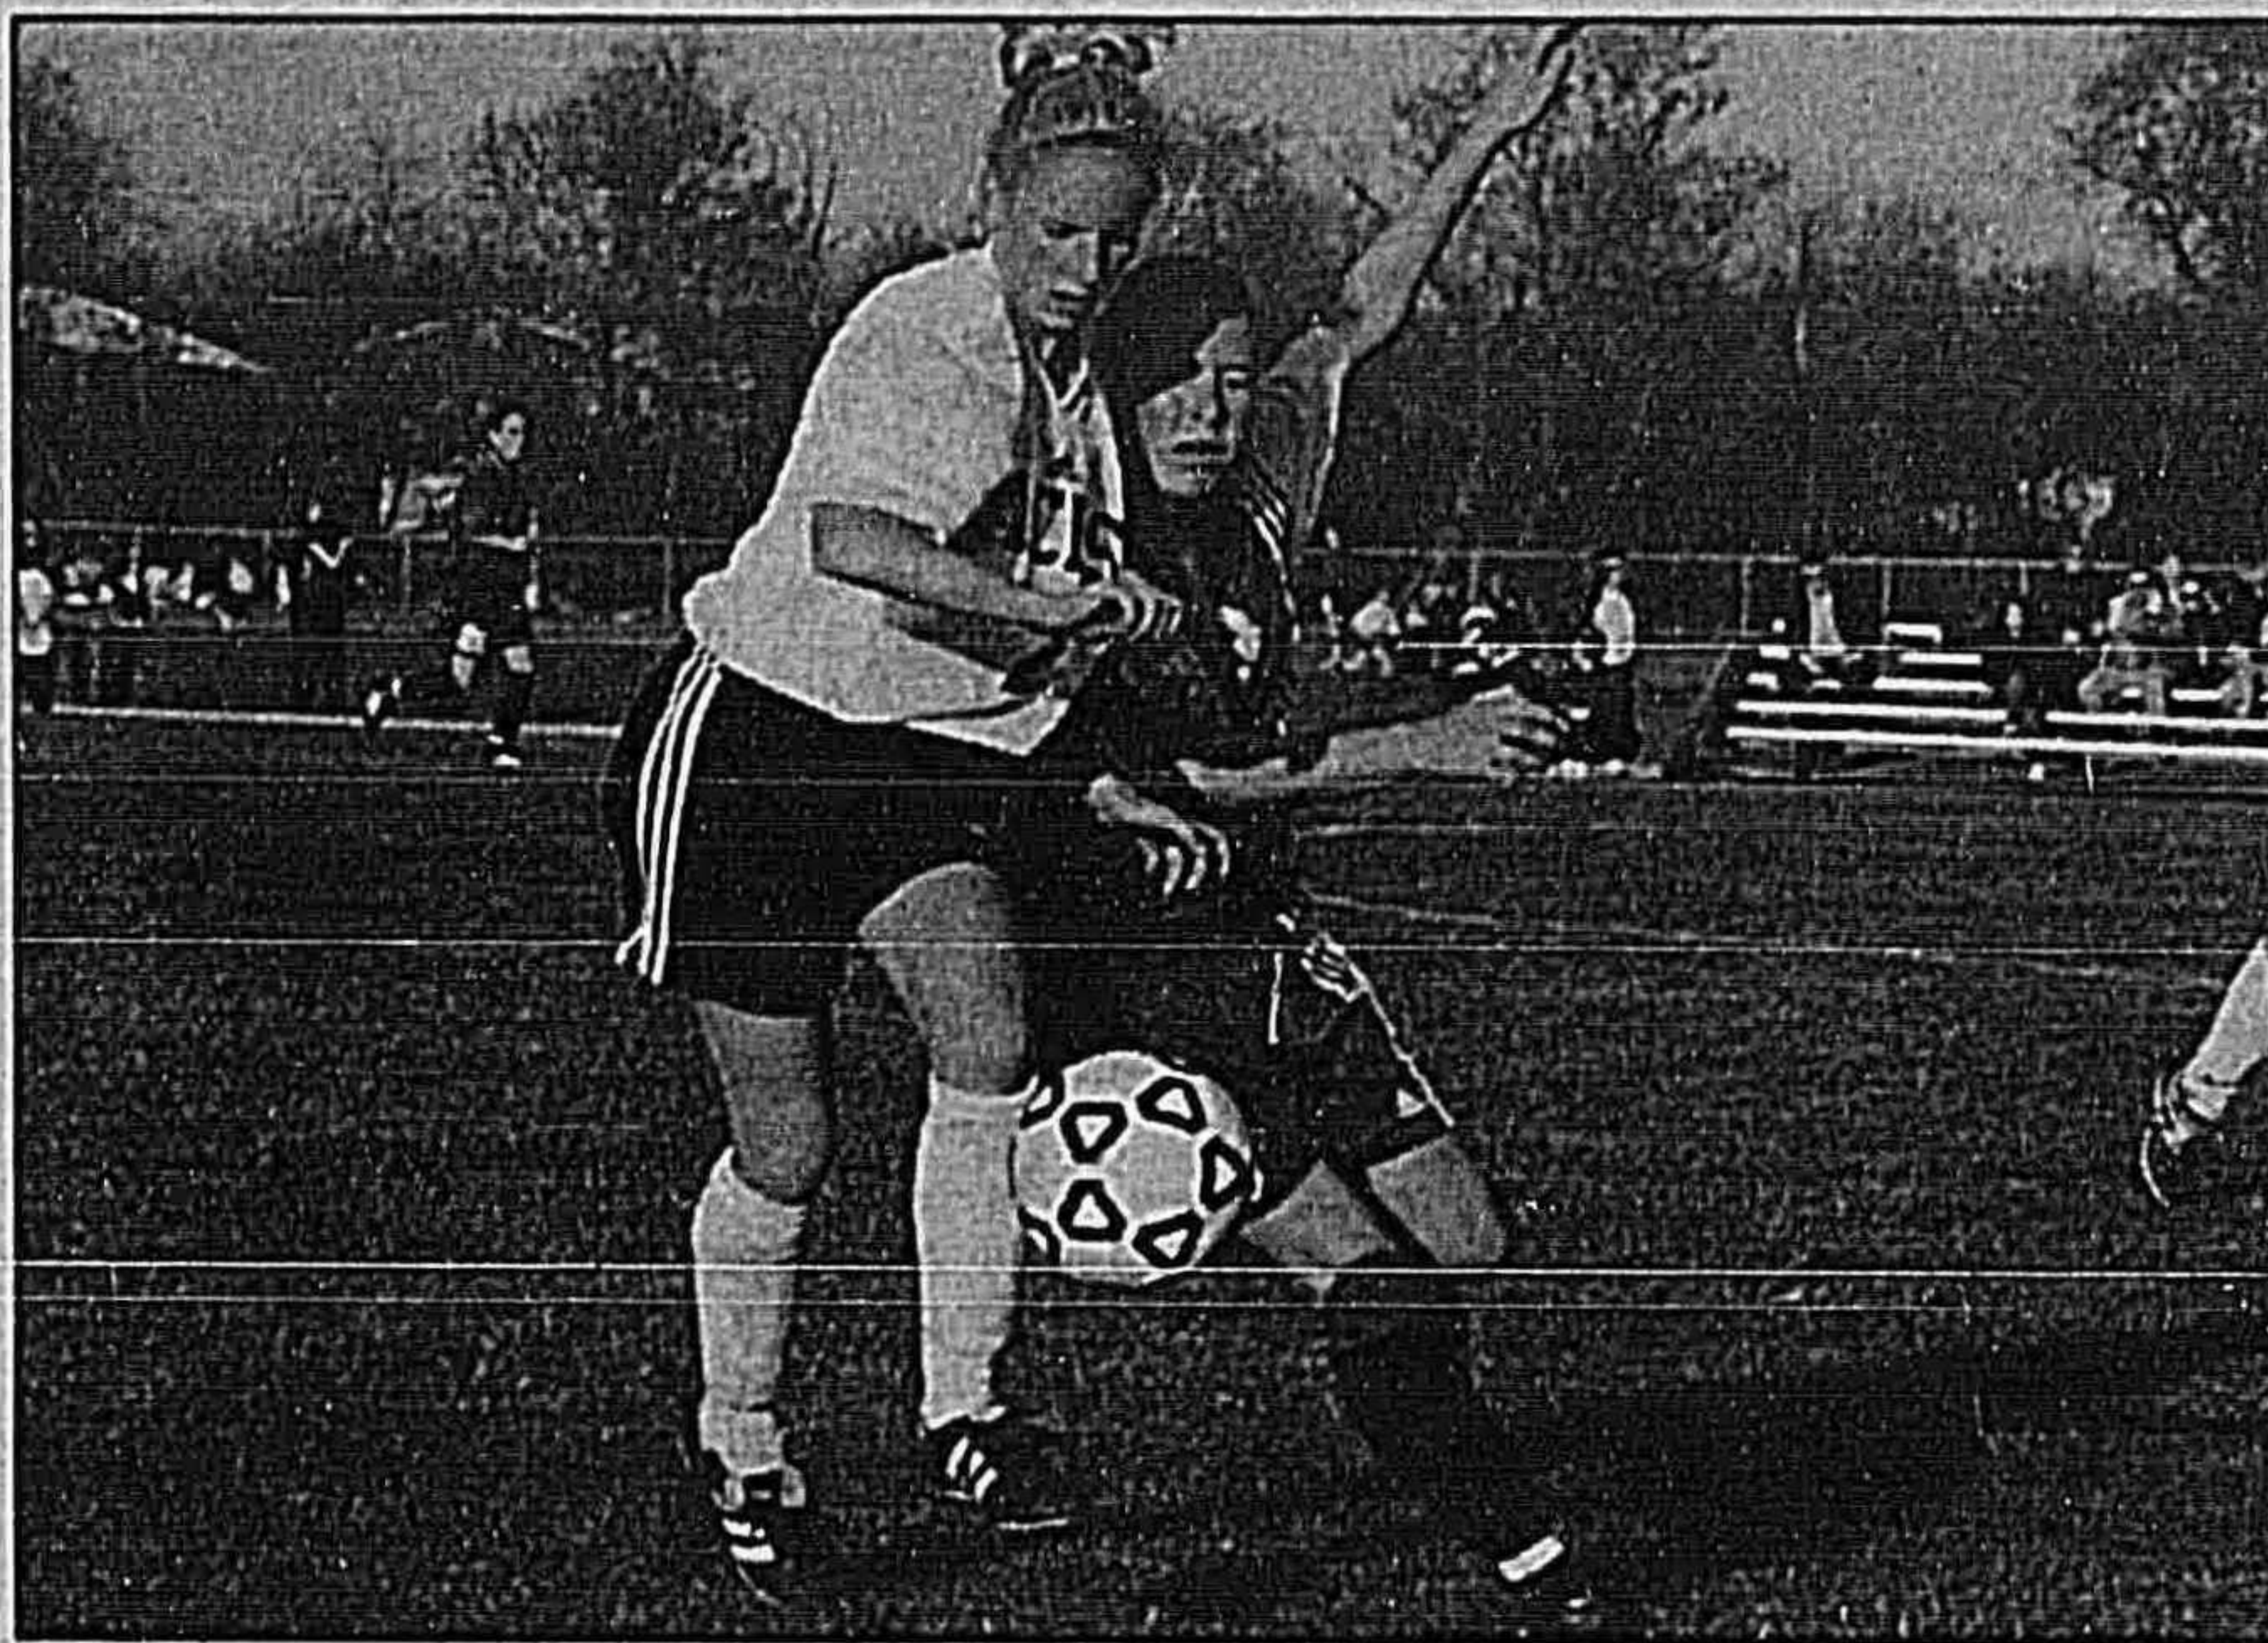

Antioch blanked Batavia 2-0. Casie Starr and Katie Hartl each scored a goal while goalie Erin Hall had five saves for Antioch on the other end of the field.

With only the championship game left to play, Antioch would face the eventual tournament MVP in Jennifer Laube, York's star keeper.

York came into the championship game with victories over Nathan Hale and Moline in the semifinal round. They had allowed no goals for the tournament in those two games.

"We're looking for the whole team to step up and all play good if we're going to win tomorrow," said Trout after their opening day victory.

Trout got exactly what he was looking for as the host Sequoits defeated York 1-0 to win the State Line Challenge for the second straight year.

"I thought it (the score) would be 1-0," said Trout. "I was just hoping that we got the one."

Niles contributed Antioch's one goal scoring off an assist by Lauren Cole. Aside from the seven goals Antioch scored for the tournament offensively, the one constant came on the defensive side. Hall and the rest of the defense let up only one goal in two days work, giving up only 16 shots for the tournament.

"We stepped up our game and played well," said Hall.

Antioch had four players named to the all-tournament team, which was voted on by the rest of the team. Among them were Hungarland, Hall, Niles, and Erica Koesling.

"It's nice to know that your teammates think well of you," said Hungarian. "Everyone (on the team) should be on the all-tournament team."

Antioch is hoping that the tournament victory will relieve the sting of their six-game losing streak and propel them into a high sectional seeding at next week's meeting.

"We'd lost six in a row and now we've won three in a row. Its completely turned us around, we're 8-8 and we know we can beat good teams," said Hungarian.

Antioch will resume conference play on Thursday, April 3 against the Warren Blue Devils at Polley Field in Antioch.

Sequoit baseball looks to rebounds after loss to Pats

By JOE PRUSKI
Correspondent

In their worst outing of the season, the Antioch High varsity baseball team suffered a five-inning 11-1 drubbing to the Stevenson Patriots 11-1 on May 1 in Lincolnshire.

The Sequoits struck first against the conference-leading Patriots, thanks to an error. Shawn Schuler reached first as Justen Kent scored the Sequoits lone run. All three outs in the top of the first inning were strikeouts by Stevenson ace Tim Morley.

After giving up a base hit and a walk in the bottom of the first, Chris Malec was able to force a groundout and a double play to get the Sequoits out of the inning unharmed.

In the bottom of the second, Antioch would not be as lucky when Stevenson's Tim Dovichi smashed a double into the gap in right center to score two runs in seizing the lead for good.

Going into the fifth inning, Antioch found themselves trailing a red hot Stevenson ball club 5-1. Any hope for a comeback was nothing more than that - a hope as Morley fanned three Sequoits consecutively ending the inning and upping his total to nine for the game.

"I don't know how the players see him mentally, but physically he's overpowering," said Antioch head coach Paul Petty. "He's one of the top three pitchers we've seen all year."

The bottom of the fifth would prove disastrous for the Sequoits when Malec gave up a three-run homer to end his day. Petty pulled Malec, replacing him with Joe Finkelberg and the Sequoits trailing 8-1.

The change proved to be invaluable when Finkelberg walked his first two batters before giving up a three-run bomb to left field.

With the score 11-1, the slaughter rule officially took effect ending the bleeding for the Sequoits, who dropped to 17-8 overall. Malec took the loss for the Sequoits, bringing his record down to 8-2.

"There a real good team and against good teams you can't make any mistakes. I did. I didn't have control of anything," said Malec.

Malec, who was rarely ahead in the count, believes that his curveball and slider failing him led to his downfall for the day.

"I had no control of my curveball or my slider. I had to throw my fastball and when I did they sat on it and hit me hard," said Malec.

The Sequoits will have a chance to avenge their loss May 3 when they play host to the Patriots in their second meeting of the week. Schuler is scheduled to take the mound for ACHS, who are hoping to walk away with a split. Then on May 5, Antioch will host a doubleheader against the Warren Blue Devils with Malec expected to pitch game one of the two game set. First pitch is scheduled for 10:30 a.m.

Hitting woes for ACHS softball

By JOE PRUSKI
Correspondent

With a key North Suburban match-up against the Mundelein Mustangs less than two weeks away, the Antioch softball team is searching to find an answer to their hitting woes.

Several games this year have resulted in goose eggs on the board for Antioch in critical games. Specifically, their failure to score last weekend at the Buffalo Grove Invitational led them to a 1-0 loss in 10 innings.

On May 1 against Stevenson at Polley field, the Sequoits repeated its performance, losing 1-0 to the Patriots.

'There are three pieces to the puzzle - fielding, hitting and pitching. We field great and we pitch great. We just can't hit'

Jen Schultz,
ACHS head coach

"There are three pieces to the puzzle - fielding, hitting, and pitching. We field great and we pitch great. We just can't hit," said head coach Jen Schultz.

The Sequoits have been plagued with poor hitting since the beginning of the season. However, Schultz believes that the team is more than capable of getting the job done at the plate.

"It's all mental," she said. "I've seen them hit in practice, I know they can do it. But when they get to the plate in a game we just can't do it."

After a non-conference tilt against Woodstock May 2, the Sequoits will have another shot at the Patriots on May 3 when they travel to Lincolnshire. From there, they travel to Gurnee to face-off against the Warren Blue Devils in a doubleheader set May 5. First pitch is slated for 10:30 a.m.

Antioch High School dance team coach Edge retires

By JOE PRUSKI
Correspondent

Last week, Thursday, the coaching career of one of the most successful coaches in Antioch High history came to an end.

Joy Edge resigned from her duties as head coach of the former state champion dance team Antioch Sequoils.

Many factors influenced her decision to step down, the biggest being her unselfishness towards the girls. Edge will be leaving the United States on June 6 to visit Paris for 60 days with her family. Because there are camps, practices, and fund-raisers over the summer, she would be missing out on part of her normal coaching tasks. She believes that it would not be fair to the kids to comeback August 7 and take over the team from there.

"It was something I really thought a lot about," said Edge. "The kids grow their own little ways and it wouldn't be fair of me to come back in the middle of that - it's sort of like a mother on a maternity leave."

After the squads two second-place finishes at this year's state championships, frustration at the Illinois Dance Team Association and her choice to go to Paris over the summer sealed her decision to resign.

"I probably knew for sure after I came back from France, after spring break," she said.

Edge's 12-year career at Antioch was not only successful, but also inspirational to the many lives she has touched as a coach.

"She (Edge) is the person that has had the most influence in my life. Not only has she taught me to dance, but how to be a true leader," said last years captain Megan Engelmann. "She proved to me that I could show traits that I never knew I had."

The same idea held true with next years captain Tristan Gandolfi.

"She goes out there and gets the impossible done, she's a mentor, inspirational kind of person," said Gandolfi.

In the 1999-2000 season, Edge recorded the first and only state championship in the high school's history, taking first in their kick routine. Her success as a coach is well appreciated throughout the high school.

"I think that her accomplishments speak for themselves. Just take a look in the trophy case, that will show you a lot about her career," said athletic director Steve Schoenfelder.

Edge will now pick up another class as a teacher at Antioch and plans to spend more time with her family. However, she doesn't rule out the chance at a possible return to coaching saying, "was Michael Jordan sure he wasn't coming back?"

More than anything else Edge believes that the interaction with the kids is what she'll miss the most.

"I'll totally miss the kids, just to watch them grow. From freshman to senior year, it's an interesting thing to watch," said Edge. "I'll miss that."

Lake Villa Township Baseball League Opening Night May 4

A final reminder that the Lake Villa Township Baseball League will be hosting its first-ever night game in 31 years Friday night, May 4 at 7 p.m. at the Lake Villa Baseball Park located off Grass Lake Rd. in Lindenhurst.

The game will feature the Lake Villa Lightning 11-year-old Travelers taking on the Lake Zurich Cougars.

This will start a three-day tournament, Lake Villa's Annual Spring Classic, which also includes teams from Plainfield, McHenry, Woodstock, Lake Villa and Mount Prospect.

As part of commemorating the first-ever night game for Lake Villa, the honorary first pitches will be thrown out by Mayor Frank Lofredo and Chief of Police Roger Visconti and State Representative Tim Osmund. State Rep. Osmund was instrumental in helping acquire $150,000 as part of the Build Illinois Program to help gain funding for renovating the new baseball field last summer.

In conjunction, this special event will mark the grand opening of the new concession stand, which was constructed by Fred Nielsen of Neilsen Construction. It will be named for his donation after his father, Fred Nielsen, Sr.

Fred Nielsen was one of the former directors of Lakes Region Youth Baseball which was the fund-raising arm of the baseball league. Fred Nielsen was also instrumental in the construction of the the baseball park.

"This has been a banner year for Lake Villa Township Baseball," said The Lakes Region Youth Baseball Chairman Rich Coles. "Population of Lake Villa Township Baseball is currently 700 strong and growing."

On a related note, continuing from its successes of last year, Lake Villa will again be hosting the AABC State Championship series beginning July 12.

The Lake Villa Sentinal, the cross-town classic hosted by Mayor Lofredo and Rich Coles, will also be hosted by Lake Villa Baseball at Lake Villa Baseball Complex July 21-22. This event will include the mayors, police departments, fire departments and rescue squads from both Lake Villa and Lindenhurst.

Advertising spots are still available for all of these events. Please contact Tom Knaack at 356-1837 for further information.

Adopt-a-Green at Stonewall Orchard

In an effort to keep its beautifully manicured greens free of ball marks and other unsightly blemishes incurred during the normal course of a round, Stonewall Orchard Golf Club in Grayslake will experiment this year with an "Adopt-A-Green" program.

"Adopt-a-Green" works by assigning permanent weekend tee time holders with a putting surface for which they will be asked to fix not only their ball marks, but as many others as possible, time permitting, when on the green.

To encourage permanent tee time holders to grasp the Adopt-a-Green program, Stonewall Orchard will install signage later this summer around all 18 greens, noting the names of those players who have "adopted" it.

Stonewall Orchard is open for public play daily. For more information or for reservations, call 740-4890 or visit www.stonewallorchard.com.

The Statesmen improved to 14-12 overall and to 5-3 in the league. Upper Iowa fell to 13-11 overall and to 5-3 in the Iowa Conference. The Statesmen then lost a doubleheader to Coe College. Scores were 11-10 in game 1 and 14-12 in the nightcap. In the second game, Osmund reached on an error and later scored a run. For the two games, the Statesmen left a total of 24 batters on base, including 13 in the second game. The Statesmen then dropped a pair of games to Buena Vista University. In the 13-8 loss in game 1, Osmund went 3-for-4 with two RBI and a run scored. Osmund then went 1-for-2 with a run scored but Penn fell 5-4 in the nightcap. The Statesmen, coached by Mike Laird, are 16-18 overall and 7-9 in the Iowa Conference. Penn plays at Loras College in Dubuque May 4 at 3:30 p.m.

HASTINGS LAKE YMCA NEWS

Coach Karin 'springs' into soccer

Everyone has been looking for signs of spring—none more so than a very excited group of 5 and 6 year olds. Every Wednesday armed with shin pads and loads of enthusiasm, they gather on the grass outside of the Community Center, happy to be outside, enjoying the crisp fresh spring air and running after a little leather size 3 soccer ball.

When we met five weeks ago, many of my little friends had only the most rudimentary idea of the sport known as "The Beautiful Game." Today, they are grasping which part of the foot to kick and pass with, learning about scoring goals and teamwork. But, most of all, whether it's "Monkey in the Middle," "Farmer and Rabbits" or just a good scrimmage—we're having loads of fun.

Summer plans include further instructional sessions and a Major League Soccer Camp (5-14 years) where everyone gets a ball, T-shirt, free Chicago Fire game ticket and a surprise gift from LEGO. Call Karin at 356-4008 for more information.

Special Olympians

Hastings Lake YMCA is proud of Special Olympians, Eric Nausbaum, Jaclyn Wurster, Eri Lileeng and Caandace Lileeng, who swam in the Northeastern District Meet. Three have qualified for the State Meet in June. The Olympians brought home four Gold and one Bronze medals and a fourth place ribbon.

Another Olympian swimmer, who trains at Hastings but swims for the Special Education Department of Lake County, received two Gold medals.

The swim teams did well this year. The girls tied with the South Side YMCA for 20th out of more than 42 teams. The girls age 8 and under placed fifth in their age group, showing great promise for the future of our team. The boy's team placed 23rd of more than 42 teams.

MARA Midgets at Wilmot

The UMARA midget organization is a primarily asphalt racing organization that could not insure they would be able to get a sufficient number of cars to switch to dirt for the program and contacted the MARA requesting they take the two dates.

The MARA will be making their first ever appearance at the historic Wilmot Speedway and have indicated to speedway management they should have 25-plus cars for the first Midget race at the speedway for the first time in 10+ years. The 50th Anniversary Season of racing kicks into high gear at the Wilmot Speedway on Saturday night May 12th. ## STRIKING OUT

Just over a decade ago, in a Chicago suburb just like you or I live in, something very disturbing took place.

John Hills, who was father and coach of a Little League team, became upset during one of his son's baseball games. He began complaining to umpires that a coach on the opposing team, 16-year-old George Loy, Jr., was shouting out ball and strike calls at a very loud volume before even the umpire could make the calls himself.

As the game reached about the third inning Loy's father, also named George, began taunting Hills with name-calling, and at one point allegedly promised to "kick his (expletive)." George Sr. also happened to be a coach for his son's team.

Once the sixth inning came to a conclusion, Hills leaned over and picked up his score book. Then, something inexplicable took place.

Hills was attacked from behind by George Loy, Sr., who began kicking him and trying to knock him to the ground. Loy's son then decided it would be okay to join in on the melee, so he too began kicking Hills. But that wasn't all. George Loy Sr.'s brother thought it might be a good idea to lend a hand, so he too began attacking the helpless coach.

At some point during the one-sided affair, George Loy Jr. took an aluminum bat, swinging it at Hill, he smashed one of his knees. Hills also suffered a bruised kidney, broken ribs and a broken nose.

This is where it probably gets more disturbing.

All three of the Loy clan were ultimately arrested, charged with battery, sentenced to court supervision and ordered to perform community service.

Although Hills sued the Loy's, the Bridgeview Little League Association and the Justice Willow Springs Little League, sponsors of the baseball tournament that day, none of the three attackers ever served any jail time for their actions. Ultimately, a jury awarded Hills $757,710. The jury's verdict sent a shock wave through the Little League baseball community — simply because both the Bridgeview and Justice Willow Springs Little Leagues were ordered to pay a portion of the damages.

STRIKING OUT

Sure, this story might bother or even anger some people. But then again, maybe it should.

Every day in Smalltown, U.S.A., a young boy or girl steps out onto one of the tens-of-thousands of youth baseball fields across the country with one thing in mind — having fun. Sadly, there are dozens of cases in this country every spring or summer day where a parent or coach's actions could be considered out-of-line.

Just how many people could this kind of violence affect? While there are no statistics kept on instances of assault or battery in Little League or high school baseball games in Lake County, or elsewhere for that matter, about 2.6 million kids take part in Little League each year.

So what is being done about parents who verbally, or even physically assault or batter umpires? Some Little Leagues have begun requiring parents of these young athletes to sign a promise to be on their best behavior during games.

Although it was only in a sarcastic or joking manner, matters weren't helped last year when State Senate President James Philip spoke during a hearing in downstate Springfield, discussing a bill which would have required a mandatory $1,000 fine for those attacking a sports official.

"I happen to go to a lot of football games, basketball games," Philip was quoted as saying to the press at the time. "Most of my friends that go to those games on a steady basis — season ticket holders — will tell you that referees, that umpires every once in awhile ought to get popped." Sadly, his colleagues voted "no" by a 33-16 margin on the bill. Philip also voted "no," and the bill was unable to advance to the House of Representatives.

Some experts have suggested that a big reason for violence in youth sports, such as baseball, comes from a person's past. For example, many psychologists feel that some parents who failed at a sport, or did not reach their own expectations, dredge up old issues left with them from their own childhoods.

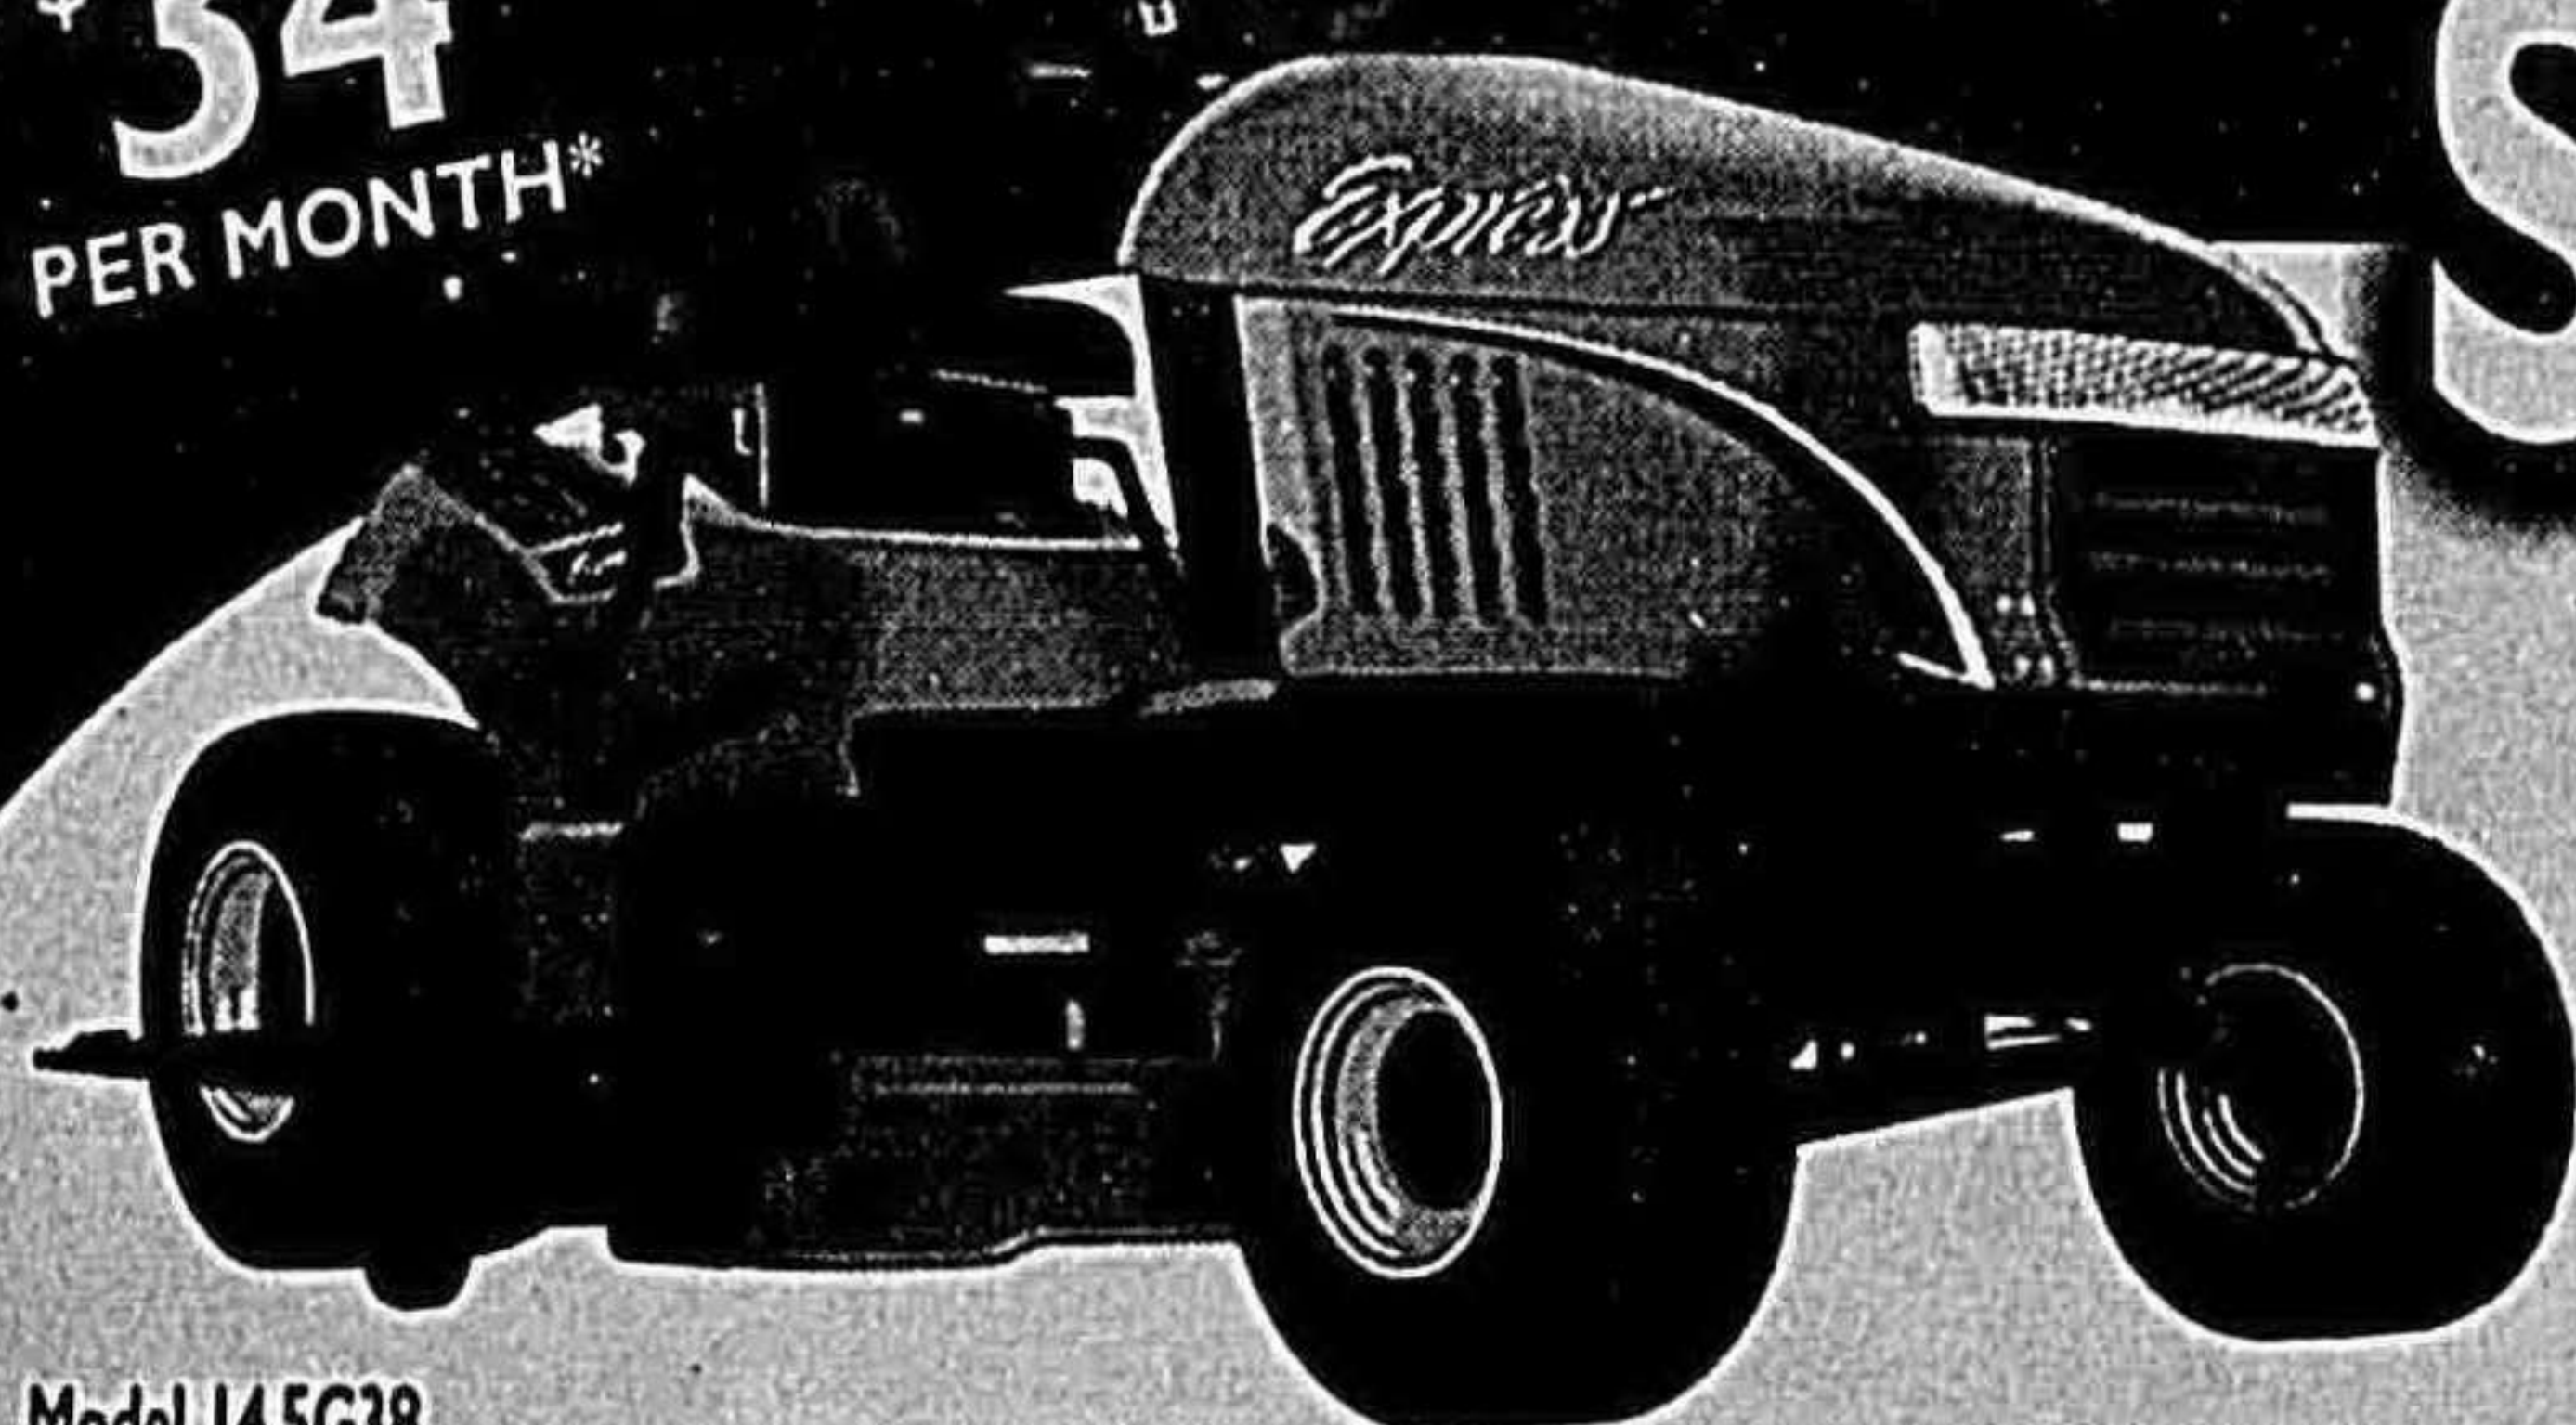

What makes matters worse, is that many people who once enjoyed umpiring no longer want to. Even those who have never umpired before are often hesitant to, simply because some people fail to realize that baseball or other sports are just games. Compound this with the fact that many Little League umpires make no more than between $25-$35 per game in most areas, and you have an even greater problem — an umpire shortage.

Maybe it's fitting.

Without umpires, there would be no games. Without games, people would have to find other things to do with their time. This seems unfair to many people, only because it's the children who are losing, not the parents or coaches.

However, it should be noted that most coaches, parents and umpires are decent people who want what is best for the kids out on the ball field. So what is the solution to this problem of violence and verbal abuse that seems to be growing at an alarming rate? Maybe it's time we all took a serious look at what the answer to this question is. In fact, maybe that time is long overdue.

HOROSCOPE

Aries - March 21/April 20

While it's going to be difficult, keep your opinions to yourself when a close friend tells you his or her latest plans early in the week, Aries. This person is going to do what he or she wants no matter what you say. So, don't risk damaging your relationship by criticizing him or her. Scorpio is involved in this situation.

Taurus - April 21/May 21

Keep your temper in check when you have a run-in with a stranger on Wednesday. You're never going to see this person again. So, don't let yourself get aggravated. Just ignore him or her, and go about your business. A loved one tells you an interesting secret. Keep it to yourself — even though you want to share it.

Gemini - May 22/June 21

You have an important decision to make on Thursday, and you can't put it off any longer. Just look at all of the pros and cons, and think about what is best for you. If you need advice, turn to that special someone. He or she won't steer you in the wrong direction.

Cancer - June 22/July 22

Your good mood soon will fade this week, Cancer, if you let a disagreement with an acquaintance get to you. You both say things that you don't mean. So, don't take anything personally. Just apologize for your actions, and this person is sure to do the same. Then, you can go about your week and feel good.

Leo - July 23/August 23

Don't be shy when you meet someone interesting while out with friends late in the week. This person could be the one for you. So, try to make a good impression. Don't be nervous. Just be yourself, and you're sure to catch his or her eye. Your feelings will be reciprocated. Aquarius plays an important role.

Virgo - Aug 24/Sept 22

While you would prefer to be alone this week, you won't get your wish. Several people need your help with personal problems. Do what you can. Your efforts will be appreciated.

Don't worry, because everything will be taken care of by the weekend. So, you can relax then.

Libra - Sept 23/Oct 23

An acquaintance tries to blame you for a mistake that he or she makes. Don't let this person get away with it. If you stay calm and explain yourself, everyone involved will believe you. Cancer plays a key role.

Scorpio - Oct 24/Nov 22

A business associate asks you to lie for him or her. Don't do it; it only will get you into trouble. This person gets into this mess on his or her own; he or she can get out of it the same way. Don't feel guilty. You're doing the right thing. That special someone has a surprise for you on Tuesday. Enjoy!

Sagittarius - Nov 23/Dec 21

Keep your temper in check when you run into a former adversary late in the week. Your relationship ended long ago. So, there's no need to relive the past. Just let it go. That special someone will be impressed with your self-control. A loved one needs your help with a family matter. Do what you can for him or her.

Capricorn - Dec 22/Jan 20

Don't be shy when a close friend introduces you to someone interesting early in the week. This person can offer you a unique opportunity. So, get to know him or her better. If you relax and be yourself, you're sure to make a good impression. Aries plays an important role.

Aquarius - Jan 21/Feb 18

When it comes to making a financial decision this week, Aquarius, don't be hasty. A lot is riding on your choice. So, gather all of the information that you can, and get advice from those whom you trust. Your efforts will pay off.

Pisces - Feb 19/March 20

While you want to see the best in people, don't be taken in by an acquaintance's act early in the week. This person is trying to pull the wool over your eyes in order to get something from you. Don't let that happen. Scorpio plays a key role.

Mexican Heritage Festival celebrates Cinco de Mayo

Come celebrate Cinco de Mayo at the Mexican Heritage Festival on Saturday, May 5 at the Lake County Forest Preserves' Greenbelt Cultural Center. At this new festival, adults and families with children of all ages will enjoy an evening of dance, music, activities, entertainment and samples of traditional Mexican foods.

For musical entertainment, the Greenbelt Center is pleased to feature internationally acclaimed vocalist Marco Antonio Cruz as well as mariachi singer, Gabriel Orejel.

Children of all ages can have their faces painted and will enjoy piñata making and breaking. The United Protestant Church Puppeteers will provide a show in both Spanish and English depicting the Battle of Puebla, which Cinco de Mayo commemorates.

In honor of the celebration, a special exhibition by two local artists will be on display. Artist and sculptor, Arnaldo Hernandez and designer Cesar Guzman will amaze with a watercolor journey through Mexico.

Their works depict the battle of Cinco de Mayo and the struggles and joys many immigrants experienced as they made their way to America.

Now living near Waukegan, Hernandez is currently creating several murals for Holy Family Church. The Center will be the first to showcase the works of Hernandez in the United States. There will be an opening reception of the exhibit on Friday, May 4 from 6:30-8:30 p.m.

The festival and reception are free and open to all ages. The Mexican Heritage Festival begins at 6 p.m. on Saturday and concludes at 9 p.m.

The Greenbelt Cultural Center is located on the east side of Green Bay Rd., south of Belvidere Rd. and north of 14th St., near North Chicago and Waukegan. For more information, please call 689-1600.

Janis Ian

Janis Ian concerts May 26

Janis Ian will perform two concerts at the Opera House on Saturday May 26. The performances will be at 5 p.m. and 8 p.m.

Throughout a career that is now entering its fourth decade, Janis Ian has faced attempts by press and public to sum up her career in a sentence or two. It can't be done. Her life and her work simply have too many facets to allow any stereotype to achieve a comfortable fit.

Ian came to national prominence in the mid 1960's when she, barely a teenager, wrote and recorded "Society's Child," a song about the pressures of a white teenage girl dating a black teenage boy. The song passionately questioned the mores of the era, but was viewed as a militant protest instead. Many radio stations banned the song until the great composer and conductor Leonard Bernstein heard and loved the song, and featured it, and her on a CBS television special. "Society's Child" was then a nationwide hit.

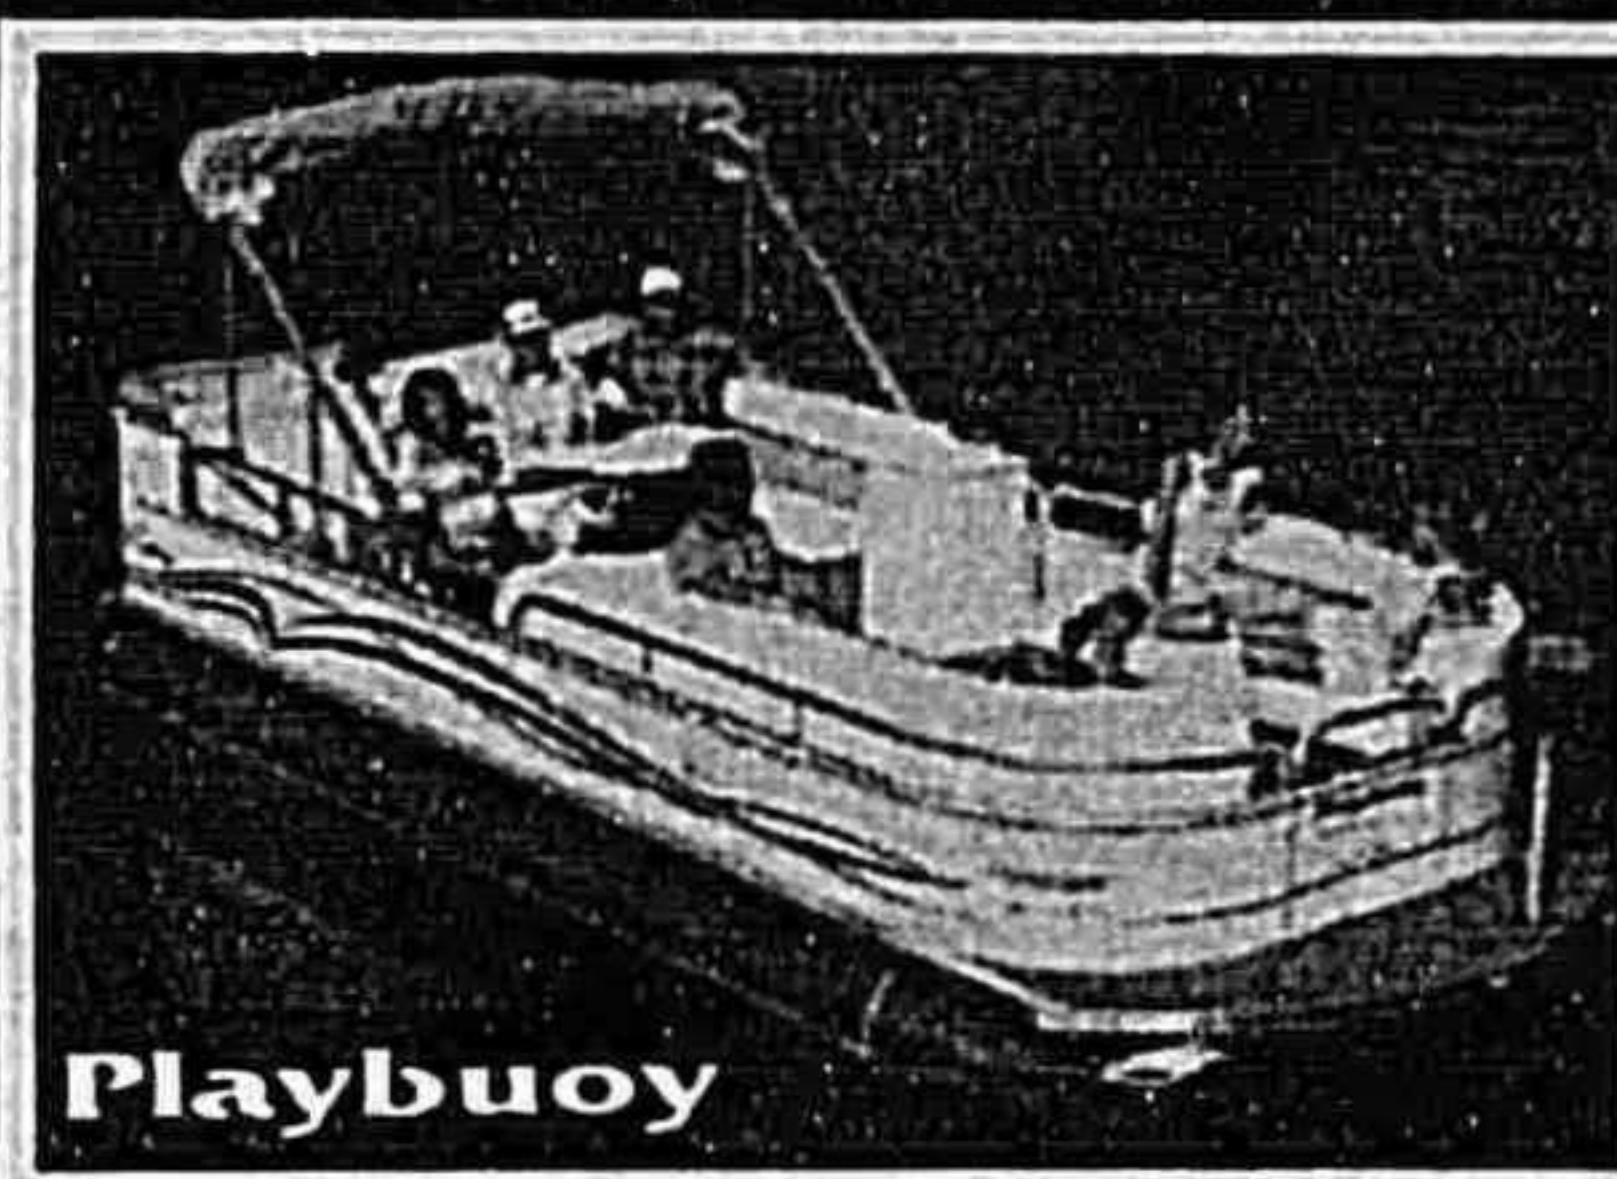

Several years later she penned the double Grammy award winning "At Seventeen," the haunting number-one hit which was definitive of her distinctive style, and established her as a socially insightful composer and singer.

Today Ian tours the world, lending a new perspective of modern times and days gone by, through her compositions and highly acclaimed stage performance.

Tickets are priced at $17 and are on sale at the box office.

The Woodstock Opera House, which is located at 121 Van Buren St., Woodstock. Please call (815) 338-5300 for more information.

John Harrison is Edy's Ice Cream's
"Official Taster."
Harrison's tastebuds are insured for a cool one million dollars.

A tasty job

Janie Lee Curtis' legs... Bruce Springsteen's voice... and... John Harrison's tastebuds! What do they all have in common? And... who is John Harrison?

All of the aforementioned celebrities have insurance policies on the asset that has made them famous. John Harrison is Edy's Grand Ice Cream's "Official Taster" whose tastebuds are insured for a cool one million dollars.

John is truly an expert in the industry, having grown up in the ice cream business (his family has been in the business for four generations.) His great-grandfather had a chain of ice cream parlors in New York City at the turn of the century. His grandfather started the first dairy co-op in the state of Tennessee and his uncle owned an ice cream factory in the South. Even John's father was in the business—he owned an ice cream ingredients factory based in Atlanta. John's ice cream roots are so firmly planted that he claims, "My blood runs 16 percent butterfat."

His subsequent 30+ years have been spent in the ice cream industry, (not eating—but tasting!) and he and his discriminating tastebuds have become quite famous. At 59 years of age, he has tasted more than 180 million gallons of ice cream. In 1997, he received the Master Taster of the Year award from the American Tasting Institute.

John's tastebuds are in their prime. The tongue is comprised of 9,000 tastebuds; each bud has ten to 15 receptacles that send messages to the brain to let you know whether you are eating something bitter, sweet, salty or sour. When sampling ice cream, the main focus of the tastebuds is to decipher the quality top notes and balance of the fresh cream, sweeteners and natural flavors.

In order to distinguish the subtleties of ice cream, Harrison has to protect his tastebuds. He stays away from spicy and hot foods during the week, he doesn't drink alcohol or smoke, and he drinks herbal tea every morning to cleanse his palate, as caffeine will clog the tastebuds.

Harrison claims he has the best job in the world. "I'm able to taste ice cream every day and get paid for it." However, there are some drawbacks to the job. Similar to wine tasting, Harrison never swallows the ice cream—he takes a cool spoonful, swirls it around his mouth, covering all tastebuds, smacks his lips to aerate the product, brings the aroma back through his nose then unceremoniously spits it out.

Harrison's tastebuds were originally insured for $250,000 in 1985 when Edy's manufactured and marketed only one line of ice cream. Since the introduction of Edy's Grand Light in 1987, Frozen Yogurt in 1989, other "better for you" products, Homemade Ice Cream, and Dreamery! super premium ice cream, Harrison's tasting responsibilities have expanded dramatically; hence the increase to $1 million. In addition to the new ice cream and novelty products marketed nationally, he also tastes Edy's Grand Ice Cream products that are manufactured for the Japanese market.

"John's tastebuds are the final quality control check for our products before they reach the consumer," says Tyler Johnston, Vice President of Marketing for Edy's Grand Ice Cream. Johnston noted that in addition to John's discriminating buds, he also has a flair for developing new flavors and has been a major influence in the creation of top-selling favorites.

Kids needed for ice cream tasting weekend

Edy's Grand Ice Cream is launching a nationwide search for kids who want to get an early start on a "cool" career. Pint-sized ice cream lovers are invited to enter Edy's "Kid Ice Cream Taster Contest" for their chance to team up with Edy's Official Ice Cream Taster, on one of the sweetest jobs around.

Ten kids from across the United States will win an all-expenses-paid trip to the Edy's Ice Cream Factory in the San Francisco Bay area to demonstrate their tasting talent. In addition to an exclusive behind-the-scenes tour of the factory, each child will put their tastebuds to the test on gallons of latest flavors to ensure that families everywhere continue to scoop up the very best, "kid approved" ice cream.

"Some people might think a job that involves eating ice cream is too good to be true... but I'm here to tell you that it really does exist," said Harrison. "I have tasted more than 180 million gallons of ice cream during my sweet career and I'm looking forward to teaching the tricks of the trade to children who are passionate about ice cream."

Kids are invited to enter the "Kid Ice Cream Taster Contest" by submitting a short essay (500 words or less) explaining, "Why I would be a great ice cream taster." Contestants must be residents of the United States and between the ages of 6-14 as of May 1, 2001 to be eligible. Submissions can be made at www.conefactory.com or sent directly to: Kid Ice Cream Taster Contest, Edy's Grand Ice Cream, 5929 College Ave., Oakland CA 94618. All entries must be postmarked or dated (if sent on-line) by Aug. 31.

Ten winners will be selected (based on the creativity, originality and enthusiasm of their entries) and notified on or about Sept. 15. In early Oct., each winner (and up to three family members) will be invited to the Edy's Ice Cream Factory in Union City, CA to "scoop up" their reward. The all-expenses-paid trip will include a behind-the-scenes tour of the factory, a lesson on tasting tips from John Harrison and best of all, an opportunity to sample dozens of delicious ice cream flavors during a marathon tasting session. In addition, each child will also receive a year's supply of ice cream to ensure that his or her tastebuds continue to get a workout throughout the year.

Hynes' fiscal plan moves on for Senate consideration

A comprehensive plan to shore up state finances drafted by Comptroller Daniel Hynes won bipartisan support from the full House by a vote of 103-11.

House Speaker Michael Madigan sponsored House Bill 2159, which contains Hynes' four-point plan for financial stability in Illinois. The plan includes measures to control spending, establish an emergency savings plan, pay down state debts and lay the foundation for a more open budget process.

Following its passage, Hynes said he hopes bipartisan support of the initiative does not end with the bill's departure from the House.

"This plan is sound financial discipline for Illinois," Hynes said. "Current trends in our economy raise the warning flags daily that we cannot wait another year to get the state's fiscal

Springtime alert: Please don't disturb young wildlife

Whether hiking in the woods, riding a bicycle trail, driving through the countryside or simply enjoying nature, outdoor enthusiasts encountering wildlife, especially unattended young wildlife, are encouraged to leave the animals alone and not remove them from the wild.

"Spending time outdoors in the spring, it is common to find baby rabbits, birds, raccoons, fawn deer or other wildlife seemingly abandoned, but rest assured the mother is probably nearby and the best thing to do is not disturb them," said Illinois Department of Natural Resources Director Brent Manning. "The mother may be foraging for food for her offspring or leaving them to draw away the attention of predators."

Nature also protects young animals with camouflaging color and by giving them little scent that can be detected by predators. In ad-

Healthy Communities, Healthy Youth survey results released

Seventy-seven percent of Gurnee/Warren Township youth say they have a positive view of their personal future. This finding is one of the results of a recent survey taken by about 2,400 teens and conducted by the Healthy Communities, Healthy Youth task force.

The group, which is committed to creating a positive awareness of youth in Gurnee and Warren Township, administered the survey last November in an effort to assess the needs of youth and whether those needs are being addressed in the community.

"Overall, we are extremely pleased with the results of the survey," said Gurnee Park District Commissioner Donna Kolar. "Results show the majority of our youth feel good about themselves and their life here in Gurnee and Warren Township." At the same time, a few areas of concern were identified. We see this as an opportunity to do a better job as a community."

In the survey, teens answered questions about self-esteem, personal responsibility, after-school activities and drug and alcohol use.

In releasing its survey results the Gurnee/Warren Township group compared its findings with a national average. The same survey has been administered to over 100,000 youth in 213 cities and 25 states.

Among the major findings in the Gurnee/Warren Township survey:

Seventy-five percent of youth value integrity and say they act on their convictions and stand up for their beliefs. This compares to a national average of 68 percent.

Seventy-one percent of youth say they are motivated to do well in school. The national av-

"She is currently attending the Credit Union Management Association's management school, and she encourages her staff to further their education in ways that help us better serve our ever-growing member base."

HEALTHY

erage for this category is 65 percent.

Sixty-one percent of youth report they do at least one hour of homework every school day. This is 12 percent higher than the national average.

"In reviewing these survey results, the value that our young people place on integrity absolutely blew me away," said Jeff Marian, pastor of Joy Lutheran Church in Gurnee. "The high percentage of teens who say that integrity is important to them and that they exhibit integrity is a wonderful statement about the moral sense of our community's youth. Our teens also scored higher than the national average on the issue of equality and social justice, also a reflection of their moral fabric."

Fifty percent of Gurnee/Warren Township youth said they place a high value on promoting equality and reducing hunger and poverty, compared to 40 percent of youth nationally.

Philip Roffman, Warren Township High School principal said, "As an educator, I can't help but be thrilled to see from these results that our community's teens are highly motivated to achieve in school and that they feel extremely optimistic about their personal future."

"Another area I was particularly pleased to see in the survey results," said Roffman, "was that our kids ranked 12 percent higher than the national average in their knowledge and acceptance of diversity."

Forty-eight percent of Gurnee/Warren Township youth say they feel comfortable with people of different cultural, racial or ethnic backgrounds, as opposed to 36 percent of youth nationally.

Chuck Balling, executive director of the Gurnee Park District, said, "I am especially happy to see that the majority of our young people say that they feel love and support from their families and also feel a strong sense of purpose."

Sixty-five percent of Gurnee/Warren Township youth say that their family life provides high levels of love and support and 64 percent report that their life has a purpose.

Still, the survey results revealed several areas of concern which Gurnee/Warren Township teens have, which are similar to responses and concerns given by young people nationally.

Only 18 percent of the teens say that adults in the community value youth. This compares with 17 percent of young people nationally.

Only 25 percent say they have positive adult role models. This percentage exactly matches the national average.

Only 23 percent report that parents are actively involved in helping youth succeed in school. The national average is 28 percent.

"What these responses tell us is that we, the adults in our community, have a lot of work to do," Roffman said.

Kolar said, "Even though these areas of youth concern match closely to those felt by youth nationally, we feel this is not good enough; that we can do better here."

"Our mission is to inspire our community to work together in developing healthy, competent, caring and responsible youth," she said. "We need to change the way we think about youth—our community needs to find ways to value and support our youth."

Roffman said, "What we're trying to accomplish with Healthy Communities, Healthy Youth is a whole different mindset. Instead of looking for problems with young people, we want the community to focus on positive ways to 'build them up.' This is called asset building. We are trying to mobilize the community to help build and reinforce developmental assets, such as integrity and responsibility, in our kids so they can be happy and healthy members of our community."

The survey, developed by a non-profit organization called the Search Institute, linked survey questions to 40 developmental assets which the institute identified as important influences on youth behavior.

Based on its research of more than 100,000 American youth in grades 6-12, the Search Institute has found that the more developmental assets a youth person possesses, the more he or she will engage in positive behaviors, such as maintaining good health and succeeding in school.

house in order."

As the bill moves to the Senate, Hynes will work with lawmakers to convince them of the importance of his plan. Illinois has closed its books the last two fiscal years with a growing deficit, and the state is currently delaying payments to vendors in excess of $120 million because of cash flow problems, Hynes said.

He remains optimistic that with full passage the fiscal plan will help Illinois avoid short-term borrowing and other steps that were necessitated by a downturn in the economy in the 1980s and again in the early 1990s.

The bill proposes the following:

• Controlling spending: During good economic times hold spending to 99-percent of general funds revenue, while allowing reasonable growth for inflation and new initiatives.

• Saving for a "Rainy Day": By depositing the remaining one-percent of general funds revenue into the Rainy Day Fund, Illinois will have $1.2 billion saved by Fiscal Year 2006 to be used for financial emergencies.

• Paying down debts: After the Rainy Day fund is sufficient, continue to use one-percent of general funds revenue to pay down unfunded pension liabilities, unpaid Medicaid bills and other state indebtedness.

• Truth-in-Budgeting: Establish a Revenue Estimating Council to provide one certified revenue projection annually for the state budget and also prohibit current budget practices that allow state agencies to delay paying bills from one fiscal year into the next.

"The CTCU Grand Discovery event is generating a lot of enthusiasm amongst our employees, member/owners and the community as a whole," Bratsakis observed. "It gives people one more good reason to stop by any of our branches where they can discover the advantages of credit union membership at Community Trust."

dition, it is illegal to possess wildlife without the proper permit. Under Illinois law, illegal possession of wildlife is a Class B misdemeanor punishable by up to six months in jail and/or a fine up to $500.

"Wildlife are not meant to be pets and removing them from their natural surroundings may allow transmitting diseases such as roundworm or rabies to people and domestic animals," Manning said "Wildlife may also carry parasites like fleas, ticks or lice that you wouldn't want infesting you or your pets."

Individuals finding injured wildlife that is posing a threat to public safety should contact their local animal control office or a permitted wildlife rehabilitator. ## CLC's Pollard leads by example

By MIKE KRIZMAN
Correspondent

Every coach looks for that player who's going to lead the team when they're not around. The person is relied upon to pick up their teammates when the chips are down, keep everyone focused and be an impact player on the field.

CLC softball coach Sue Garcia had all of that this season. It came in the form of pitcher/catcher Brooke Pollard.

Pollard came to CLC two years ago from Round Lake High School where she was a three-sport athlete in volleyball, basketball and softball. This season, she was one of only three sophomores on a Lancer team that finished with a record of 16-23 this season, Amy Springer and Nancy Bleim being the others. The leadership each of them provided is what Garcia will miss the most.

"They always got the ball rolling before I even walked out to the field," Garcia said.

"They would get practices going and they were leaders on and off the field."

Pollard finished with a record of 6-6 as a pitcher, including a no-hitter against Joliet two weeks ago in the Chaparral Invite at the College of DuPage.

Her seven home runs at the plate were another valuable asset to the Lancers along with leading the team in extra bases. But Pollard also displayed all-around skills as a catcher and third baseman.

"I love being a catcher," Pollard said. "My parents always tell me that I'm a natural leader. Catching gives me a chance to control the tempo of the game and calm the pitchers down."

As for the no-hitter, Pollard was quick to credit her team with their help.

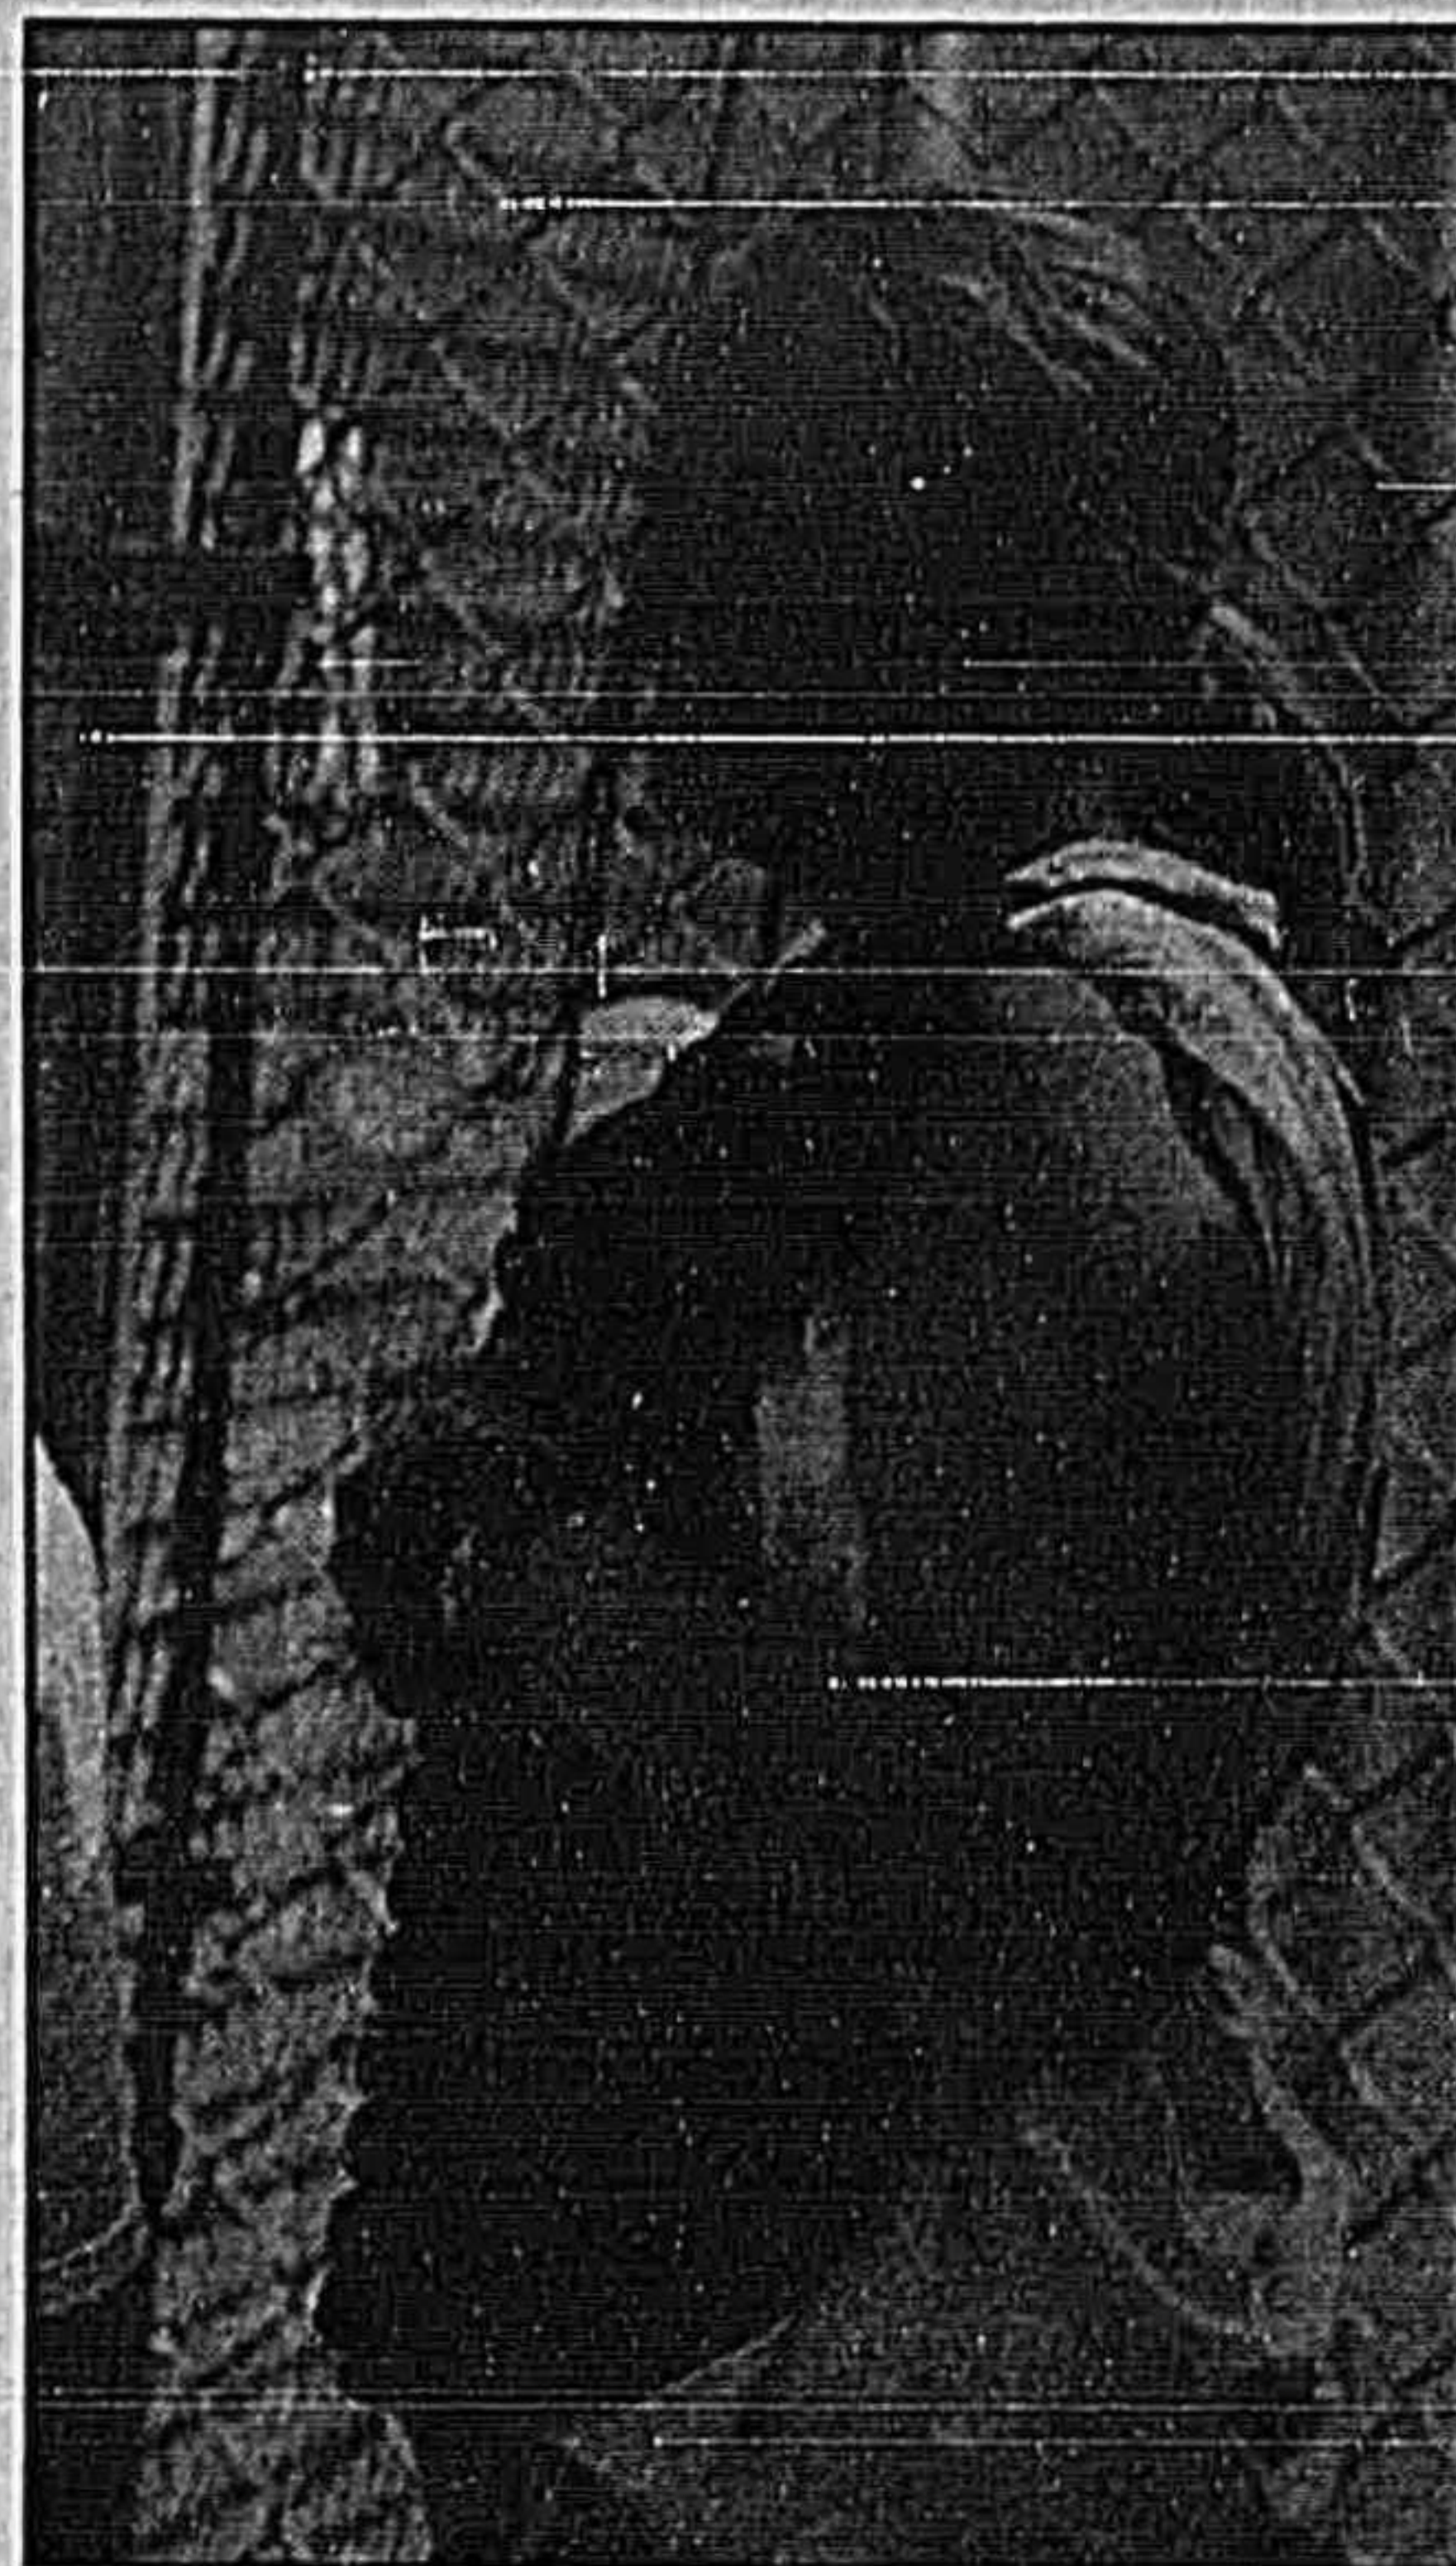

"We got the flow going early in the game and our team defense really came through," Pollard said. "We had lost every game the weekend before and I knew that we had to get on the right track. We came out and played our best that day."

Garcia now has the task of replacing one of her best players. Pollard's leadership skills are not easy to come by.

"We're losing a leader, someone who brings power to the plate and the drive to play well and become a better player," Garcia said. "She never complained. She did whatever was asked of her."

Pollard hopes that her playing days doesn't end with CLC. She's currently looking around and weighing all the options.

"I don't want to stop now," she said. "I love softball and I would love to keep playing somewhere."

CLC NOTES

Women's softball

CLC's season came to an end in the opening round of the Region IV playoffs against Highland Community College. The Lady Lancers (20-23) fell into a hole early in the double-elimination tournament losing the first game 2-1.

CLC managed just four singles by Maggie Stewart, Brooke Pollard, Amy Springer and Kaeleen O'Connell.

The team's inability to hit wasted a strong pitching performance from Tiffany Paddock who went eight innings, giving up seven hits and five walks while striking out one.

The Lady Lancers stormed back in the second game, winning 11-3 to stave off elimination. Pollard went the distance, giving up three runs, seven hits and four walks to go along with four punch outs. Kristen Pagano went 2-for-4 with two doubles, two runs scored and two RBI. Tiffany Suurmeier went 2-for-4 with a double and two RBI. O'Connell and Stacie Peterson also doubled as five of CLC's nine hits in the contest were two-baggers.

In the third and deciding game, the Lady Lancers jumped out to a 6-2 lead after four innings but two errors led to six unearned runs for Highland and CLC never recovered. Highland added three more runs in the top of the seventh inning and went on to win the game 11-6 to end CLC's season. Tiffany Paddock took the loss, allowing 13 hits and one walk while fanning two batters.

Pagano went 2-for-4 with a triple, an RBI and three runs scored and Pollard went 2-for-4 with a double, a triple and three RBI.

"A couple of (uncharacteristic) errors led to their (Highland's) outburst in the sixth,"

said head coach Sue Garcia.

Men's tennis

The Lancers won their first match of the season, defeating Oakton Community College 9-0 to improve their record to 1-3 in the Skyway Conference and 1-13 overall.

Dan Clarke played a terrific match at No. 1 singles, winning in straight sets 6-1, 7-5. Dan O'Connell also won in straight sets at No. 2 singles, winning 6-1, 6-3. At No. 3 singles, Mark Fletcher won 3-6, 6-3, 7-5. O'Connell and Clarke won at No. 1 doubles 6-4, 6-2.

The win gave CLC just the momentum it needed going into the Skyway Conference Tournament. The Lancers finished in fourth place in the tournament. Fletcher won his first match of the tournament 6-0, 6-3 but lost in the second round 6-0, 7-6 (7-2). Clarke also won his first match in three sets 2-6, 6-4, 6-3. However, he also lost his second round match 6-2, 6-2.

CLC will compete next in the Region IV tournament at DuPage on May 5 and 6.—Rob Backus contributed to this report.

Pinpoint plans for roads tax

As early as next spring, voters here may be asked to approve a sales tax increase to generate funds for highway improvements. General Assembly authorization is needed to obtain referendum approval to increase the sales tax by a quarter of a cent. The increase would add $15 million annually for county roads.

After backing away from supporting a four or five cent per gallon increase in gasoline taxes for years, county legislators are looking more kindly toward the sales tax approach and are willing to take the referendum approach to Springfield.

Both county officials and legislators are buoyed by the results of a narrowly focused survey conducted last year that showed 61 percent of 800 respondents supported a gasoline tax for road improvements. County Board Chair Suzi Schmidt (R-Lake Villa) considers transportation improvements the top priority of her administration.

Even if gasoline prices continue at record highs, the sales tax increase might have a chance if exasperated motorists are told in advance exactly where and how increased funds will be utilized, particularly how east-west roads can be improved to move rush hour traffic. They won't buy make-work projects or pork-laden plans that have marred politically inspired budgets in the past.

Water quality study tripled

For water quality students, Lake County is the Mother Lode. Besides inland lakes—by count of the County Health Dept.—there are rivers, streams, creeks, drainage ditches, countless wetlands and our inland sea, Lake Michigan.

Lake County now maintains a high tech lakes management team that has been able to increase surveillance, going from about 10 lakes per year to more than 30. The team is acquiring a wide range of data on each lake from pinpointing undesirable nutrients to profiling complicated ecosystems.

Team members study private and public lakes, even putting lakes located in the Forest Preserve System under the microscope, like tiny Owen's Lake in Lakewood Forest Preserve near Wauconda. If a body of water can be used for something by humans, it is going to get studied in a five-year program.

Mark Pfister, director of the department's lakes management team, encourages local residents to be pro-active in studying quality and conditions. The health department stands ready to help private citizens as a resource center, providing vital information when a lake is threatened as in the case of Long Lake, a 340 acre residential and recreational body of water that is fighting pollutants coming in from a pharmaceutical plant located on a tributary.

Long Lake is a classic example of how pro-active citizens working in tandem with the health department can document contaminants being released in the discharge from a Baxter Healthcare plant in west Lake County. Polluters need to know that a knowledgeable citizenry is a potent force. Point persons on the Long Lake team include a Ph.D. in marine biology, a former mayor and a retired executive from a major U.S. corporation. They won't be pushovers for big business.

Water is a fragile resource. County Board Rep. Loretta McCarley (R-Beach Park), chairman of the Health and Human Services Committee, is square on target when she says the budget for water management activities "is money well spent."

Earthquake? Map to foretell future

High growth areas of Illinois, including Lake County, are in line for a far-reaching three dimensional map project being conducted by the Illinois State Geological Survey.

The mapping, which will cost from $2 to $4 million per year for a period exceeding 10 years, is designed to provide answers for land use issues. Information will aid in development decisions. Data gained from soil borings several hundred feet deep down to bedrock will help with disposal of waste, locating aquifers and indicating the possibility of erosion and earthquakes.

Besides boring, the mapping will employ geophysical investigations where sound waves and electrical currents are sent through the earth to detect difference in rates and ease of travel. It's all very high tech, but cost effective in preventing mistakes like locating a landfill near an aquifer.

When growth and development are taking place, what you can't see can be hurtful. Are we on a fault line? Is a landfill a threat to our water supply? That's what the innovative mapping project aims to answer with three dimensional mapping.

YEAR OF THE SNAKE...

VIEWPOINT

Annoying noise, sloppiness waning

Good news comes in twos. At least at this desk. This week.

What a pleasant surprise to learn that action is afoot to address two pet peeves—excessively noisy restaurants and sloppy dress in the work place.

Hawaiian shirts, football jerseys and sweatshirts, the successors to denim work shirts and golf logo shirts adopted when casual Friday was introduced in the mid-90s, are on the wane, according to prominent business writer Joe Queenan.

From his observation post in New York, Queenan wondered if there is a link between the market meltdown of the highflying dot.coms and the management known as the worst-dressed business people this side of Moscow?

I'd say yes. Definitely. Think about buying a high tech equity today from a guy wearing Waikiki's latest topper? Think about buying a high tech equity today from a guy wearing a pin-striped suit and a Brooks Brothers button-down?

Queenan makes a case for the demise of casual business dress by noticing the trend away from logo shirts and khaki pants at trade shows. The writer quoted an expert that the sought after friendly look became so relaxed as to present a negative impact.

The desired friendly din or busy bustling sound coveted by many upscale eateries is beginning to backfire, so says Time magazine. Trendy restaurants like Rainforest Cafe where conversation is all but blotted out by elephant trumpeting and jungle sounds reportedly are having second thoughts about noise levels. It's about time.

One of Lakeland's nicest restaurants (sorry to remain nameless) has a noise level that detracts from its good food, attractive decor and friendly service. High-level hub bub is an attraction at Mickey Finns in Libertyville, but bring earplugs if you're in a conversational mood. Noise is supposed to create a "happening" atmosphere. I'm not sure.

Guess you'd say my idea of a good time is enjoying a tasty meal in a place where you can hear what your well-dressed companions are talking about. You do want to hear what they have to say, don't you?

Largest relay

American Cancer Society has landed two well known Barrington residents to serve as honorary co-chairs of Relay for Life at 5:15 p.m. Friday, May 11. Kimberly Duchossois and Connie Payton will be on hand to help start what is regarded as the largest relay in Illinois.

An advance donation of $10 allows all comers to compete at the course at Arlington Park. Call 847-358-3965 to enter.

No more music

One of Lake County's all-time

musical talents succumbed to cancer in Arizona. Isaac "Ike" Cole, 77, was a prominent figure in business and education life in the Waukegan-North Chicago area for many years before moving to Arizona. In those days, Ike was a fixture at Chicago's Pump Room. A gracious, friendly man, Ike would oblige requests to perform songs his brother, Nat "King" Cole, made famous. But Ike was his own man and he could play up a storm on the piano.

Walking for dogs

Siberian Huskies and dog lovers will be in for a treat at 10 a.m. Saturday, May 19, at Van Patten Woods Forest Preserve when Adopt a Husky hosts its second annual Husky Hike. The three-mile walk is designed to raise donations for rescue and support work for huskies. A call to 262-909-2244 will supply additional information.

Time flies

The old saying about "Time flies when you're having fun" surely applies to the 26th opening Saturday, May 5, of Six Flags Great Escape. Seems like only yesterday that neighbors were complaining about rollercoasters "zooming" into their bedrooms. One way the famed amusement park has been able to sustain the public's interest is designing new thrill rides. This year Vertical Velocity and Deja Vu are being introduced.

Restroom fixtures for men and women—when equal is not enough

A proposal that is being considered in the City of Chicago is creating quite a "splash." Right now, there is a city ordinance that requires in museums, malls, coliseums, stadiums, theaters, night clubs and restaurants for more than 100 people all of which are being either newly constructed or remodeled that there be an equal number of fixtures in women's restrooms as in men's. The new ordinance would require twice as many fixtures for the women. The news item I had heard used the term fixtures, but we can use the more common terms, toilets

One should not take this issue in jest; it is a serious matter. It used to be that at major sporting events, when a few women attended,

Greatest generation

I want to thank the hundreds of Vista ElderCARE volunteers for the many small acts of great love they provide each day to our homebound elders in northern Lake County.

These elders are members of the "Greatest Generation" and their contributions to the American life we know are unquestionably vast. Yet, they are sometimes also frail, isolated and poor and many are homebound due to chronic illness or disability. Based on current research, more than 54 million Americans were involved in family caregiving last year. This underscores what we already know at ElderCARE: that the need for our practical and caring services is growing. We have received 1,010 requests for service in less than three years and have trained more than 800 volunteers.

There are many ways our volunteers provide a strong safety net for vulnerable elders. Services include friendly visits to reduce isolation, grocery shopping and household chores. Students and youth groups have done yard work. Wellness visits are provided by RN volunteers and Lifeline Personal Response units are installed by trained volunteers. Every day hope and faith combine to lift the spirits of our elders. Transportation volunteers have provided 1,677 trips to medical appointments to help meet our goal of keeping homebound elders as healthy and independent as possible.

Each volunteer is valued and appreciated by the elders served and by the ElderCARE staff. To learn more about Vista ElderCARE volunteers, call 360-4004.

Land control?

In January of this year, the Supreme Court ruled that the Army Corp of Engineers had overstepped its bound, controlling isolated wetlands that are not adjacent to intrastate waterways. Now Stormwater Management of Lake County wants to ignore the Supreme Court and take control of the same wetlands.

This ordinance has nothing to do with storm water and everything to do with controlling the rights of landowners to build on their property. In the past many landowners have had their land rendered useless or had to pay large sums of money to "wetlands banks" just to be able to build on their property. If passed, this ordinance will be nothing more than another set of governmental hoops to jump through, more cash into the county coffers and in some cases property will be rendered useless.

Stormwater Management was enacted to control flooding in Lake County. Isolated wetlands not adjacent to navigable waterways have nothing to do with stormwater management or flooding. It is another means by which county government can control what the private citizens do with their property. Apparently the Supreme Court of the United States doesn't matter to Lake County Stormwater Management.

Burdening neighbors

The State Board of Education's Deputy Superintendent for School Finances Gary Ey said that Round Lake "needs to begin talking with neighboring districts to discuss alternatives."

Are we to infer that the neighbors of Round Lake are to be burdened once again with a school tax? Haven't the residents of the Big Hollow School District done enough? We were urged to approve a referendum to raise our taxes to build a new school building at Molitor and Fish Lake Rd. This referendum was misrepresented to the public. No mention was made that these increases would span 20 years. After it was approved we learned the full extent of this taxation.

The potential increase of students in this area is a direct result of new housing development where the developers pay a woefully inadequate impact fee. These fees are a fraction of the cost needed per new student. Yet, these same developers boast of a good school system in their advertisement to sell their homes and townhouses. Now the residents of Round Lake want us to shoulder the additional cost of schooling some of their students. When will it end?

County and Township officials should be given the power to overrule local mayors when towns make sweet deals with developers that negatively affect those outside of their towns.

Hugged your family tree today?

The Indians had a saying: "If you want a place in the sun, you must leave the shade of the family tree."

But when the pilgrims began arriving from England, the Indians may have concocted another saying: "Oh, oh! There goes the neighborhood."

In the ensuing 400 years the flow of foreigners looking for a place in the sun in America has been a fascinating story—especially from 1892 to 1924 when 22 million immigrants came by ships to the port of New York and Ellis Island. They, our ancestors, gave us the legacy of being born here instead of perhaps in a lesser land.

Genealogy, the study of family trees, long has been a hobby but suddenly its popularity is exploding. Tracking ancestors now can be as simple as a few clicks of the computer mouse.

For several years volunteers from the Mormon Church have been working with Ellis Island officials to compile the information from manifests that immigrants filled out on board ship. The searchable database includes ages, ethnicity, last-known residence, date of arrival and name of the ship they traveled on.

The new web site, "ellislandrecords.org," debuted two weeks ago and had 26 million visitors in its first 54 hours. It was the top search term on Lycos, the popular Internet network, and only the third time in Lycos' history that a new term debuted as No. 1.

I have never been a family-tree hugger, but suddenly I am more curious about my ancestors.

As one wit quipped, "Why pay money to have your family tree traced; go into politics and your opponents will do it for you."

Humorist Ring Lardner noted: "The family you come from isn't as important as the family you're going to have."

Alas, the Ellis Island web site is so popular it's almost inaccessible. I keep getting this response: "Due to an extraordinary number of visitors, we must limit access to the site."

become legislators, I'm not sure that those facilities are adequate.

When I sponsored the Equal Rights Amendment, I remember that many of the opponents argued that women shouldn't have equal rights because they are so biologically different than men. The argument didn't have anything to do with equal pay for equal work and many of the other rights that women were seeking through the amendment. But, the thought occurred to me that I wonder what those same opponents would be saying now about the proposal to provide more restroom fixtures for women than men.

They would probably say, "now they want to be more than equal."

Their logic would be misplaced again. It just takes a little bit of common sense. One of the women, arguing for the need for more toilets for women, said it in as clean language as I can by saying "the process is so much quicker for men than for women."

There's another reason that they should consider building more restroom fixtures and facilities for women in the future. Look

Please keep trying."

When the family-tree traffic finally trickles down, I hope to learn more about two families in particular that came all the way from Germany to the same neighborhood in Kenosha, Wis., thus enabling my father, Jerry Pfarr Sr., to court and wed Lucille Kleist.

Together, they had five sons, including guess who? Yup, me, Jerry Pfarr Jr.

I knew my grandfather, Matthew (Cap) Kleist, a factory worker and baseball player. At his neighborhood tavern there was a table called "Cap's Corner," where he held sway.

From a cousin researching our roots I learned about my mother's grandfather, Michael Kleist. He came from Germany to Kenosha, got married and had 10 kids. In 1885, at the age of 55, he was found dead with his face in Lake Michigan. Newspaper accounts were sketchy but suggested he left a saloon with "a lot of money" in his pocket (20 dollars) and was "done in" by a culprit or two. He apparently was bopped on the bean and then shot in the head.

How sad. Not only was he robbed of his life and his 20 dollars but also of the thrill of bouncing me on his knee had he lived to a ripe old age.

around. Men, have you noticed that there are more of them than there are of us. And, as people begin to live longer, there will be even more women than men.

I have often said that you don't solve problems until someone talks about them. This is not the type of issue that you will read in many columns. But, though one could react with humor about it, I believe one must also look at it realistically as a serious matter.

Having stood in some long lines at half-time of sporting event lines and seen the painful look on some of my male counterparts about to double-up, they just don't know how lucky they are. So, it is about time that this issue came to a head.

Whether the city ordinance in Chicago will end up requiring twice as many restroom fixtures for women than men, it will surely be a step in the right direction if they surpass the present 50-50 law.

I can just hear some of my male brethren saying, "how many more mirrors do they get?" But, that's another subject for another day.

women's restrooms were few and far between. As newer facilities were constructed, public places like sports stadiums established the 50-50 rule, an equal number of "stalls" for men and women.

I recall when I was elected to the legislature, there was no restroom for women, either at the back of the assembly room as there was for the men, or anywhere else on that floor of the Capitol building. They had to use a restroom on the second floor, just below the assembly. Talk about discrimination. The debate was "piped" into the men's room, so we didn't miss many roll call votes. Thankfully, when the House was renovated in a major way, accommodations were built for the women legislators. In recent years, there have been so many women who have successfully

Can gardening improve your health?

Turn on the television at any time of day and you'll be bombarded with ads for pills, powders, drinks, and exercise gizmos that promise to help you shed excess pounds. But before you shell out $50 for the "Chub-Buster 5000," get out your gardening gloves. Better health can be as close as your backyard.

Weed Away Your Weight

Spring and summer gardening can be a great whole-body workout to shed extra winter weight. Weight-bearing activities such as digging and lifting can build muscle, and aerobic activities such as raking, mowing and hoeing can burn calories. A 180-pound person will use 202 calories during 30 minutes of digging, spading and tilling.* Even 30 minutes of cutting the grass on a riding mower burns 101 calories. Other calorie burners include:*

- Raking (30 minutes) 162
- Planting trees (30 minutes) 182
- Trimming shrubs, manually (30 minutes) 182

- Laying sod (30 minutes) 202
- Weeding (30 minutes) 182
- Turning compost (30 minutes) 250

As with any exercise, it's important to warm up and stretch before you begin gardening or yard work. Vary your activities to avoid overusing specific muscles. To prevent back injuries, bend from the knees when you rake and hoe or when you lift heavy objects such as bags of potting soil.

You'll also want to protect yourself from excess sun exposure. Wear a hat and use a sunscreen with an SPF of at least 15. Drink adequate fluids to avoid becoming dehydrated, and retreat to someplace cooler if you feel yourself getting overheated.

Dig for Your Bones

There's even more good news for green thumbs. According to a 2000 University of Arkansas study that compared many forms of exercise, yard work is most significant for preventing osteoporosis in women age 50 and older. Researchers compared yard work to bicycling, aerobics, dancing and weight training. Yard work and weight training were the only two activities shown to be significant for maintaining healthy bone mass.

The Fruits of Your Labor

The best part of gardening may be the edible rewards. A summer's bounty of fruits and vegetables contains fiber that may reduce your risk for colon cancer, as well as antioxidants and phytochemicals that may reduce your risk for heart disease and some cancers. Fruits and vegetables are also low in fat, which can help with weight loss. The American Dietetic Association recommends that adults get at least three to five servings of vegetables, and two to four servings of fruits each day.

My baby likes to bark!

Hi Dr. Singer,

I volunteer at a local animal shelter and recently, a puppy came in that I absolutely fell in love with! We bonded immediately. We also have a young toddler daughter who bonded with our little girl puppy immediately. In fact, they are the best of friends. Here is our problem and you will probably think we are a little crazy: Since we brought this puppy home, she sits just below our child's crib and barks at her. That is normal. The problem is, our daughter is barking back! This is the way they communicate with each other. We have thought it was really cute and very sweet up until one of our kind of "uplity" friends saw it and got us worried that maybe she will not learn to speak normally. We would like to let this wonderful relationship between our human daughter and canine daughter keep going, but wondered if we really could allow any damage to occur here. Please don't think us too crazy and thank you for your time! D.H.

Hi D.H.,

I think you should be thrilled for this wonderful connection your two "daughters" have made with each other. There is nothing like the feeling of being able to be best friends with your dog, even at your daughter's age! I think the person who has problems here is your worried friend! It is perfectly normal for kids to imitate what they hear said whether it be from you or from her darling little canine companion! Even though you haven't said it, I'm fairly certain that she has been imitating other things besides the barking, but the barking gives her pleasure because she can communicate with her friend. We bark and growl and "talk" with our dogs on a regular basis. Doesn't make us abnormal. It just gives us a very special relationship with our animals!

Also, let me point out from a personal perspective that what a child is learning and saying as a toddler doesn't necessarily translate into a problem later on. When I was a toddler, my parents had a really good time with my natural mispronunciation of things. Horsies were "for-sies." Bumps were "beumphs" (an old "Inspector Clouseau-ism.") We had a blast with words and laughed all the time. Not at each other, but with each other. Just like you, we had and still have a very snotty Aunt who looked down her nose at my folks and told them that I would never be able to speak normally if they kept talking to me like that. My parents didn't listen to her. What did it do to me? Well, I'm sure you have read my column before, right? Do you notice anything off? The answer is a big hearty, "no!" In fact, I think it has made me into

Condell Blood Gas Laboratory accredited by College of American Pathologists

Condell Medical Center's blood gas laboratory has been awarded accreditation by the College of American Pathologists' (CAP) Commission on Laboratory Accreditation. Rigorous standards and commitment to quality patient care make the CAP Laboratory Accreditation Program the most universally respected program of its kind.

"Keeping up with CAP's rigorous criteria challenges us to continually strive for excellence, making sure that our physicians and patients have confidence in accurate results from our lab," said Gary Shellenberger, Assistant Director of Condell's Respiratory Care Department, which includes the blood gas laboratory.

To determine how well a lab serves its patients, CAP inspectors examine record-keeping and quality-control practices for the preceding two years and evaluate the education and qualifications of all staff members, the adequacy of the facilities and equipment and the safety and management of the laboratory. How does blood gas testing help clinicians?

Blood gas testing helps physicians detect the effectiveness of a person's breathing, including the lungs' capacity for processing oxygen. Measuring blood gases also can detect carbon monoxide poisoning and complications caused by diabetes, and ensure that the heart-lung machine is filtering the patient's blood correctly during open heart surgery.

"No one fought my cancer harder than CTCA"

"This hospital healed my body. I didn't expect to be healed spiritually as well."

(Cancer Treatment Centers of America)

"The people here are like a family."

"I would have been lost at a university hospital. I know I would have been just a number."

"Why didn't I know about this hospital sooner?"

"You need to tell everybody about this place."

You have cancer. Or you love someone who does. Why consider Cancer Treatment Centers of America? Why leave the care of referred doctors and hospitals? Why travel possibly hundreds of miles for your cancer treatment? Why try new and unfamiliar therapies?

The answer, for thousands of patients, is the reason they come to CTCA. Twenty-five years ago, we determined the state of cancer care was unacceptable. So we embarked on a mission to treat people with cancer, in ways that would make a real difference in their lives and those of their families. Today, our widely acclaimed care, which combines the latest medical technology with nutritional, spiritual, physical and psychological intervention, has served as a model for cancer care nationwide. It is total care for mind, body and spirit.

Just one of our core passions is nutrition. Faced with the fact that more than one-third* of cancer patients die of malnutrition, we realize how crucial nutrition is in an overall treatment plan. We begin with an initial assessment of your body's nutritional needs. A registered dietitian creates a well-balanced plan to boost or sustain your immune system, and help reduce the side effects of your treatment. As with every aspect of treatment, you'll become a partner in your nutritional progress.

If you or a loved one are currently fighting cancer, call oncology information specialist Doug White at 1-800-577-1255 to find out how CTCA can help you in your battle.

Winning the fight against cancer, every day.™

Hospital food service team receives national quality award

Contrary to the standard cliché about the quality of hospital food, the food service team at Cancer Treatment Centers of America at Midwestern Regional Medical Center in Zion regularly hears from patients and visitors as to how good their food, and food service is.

Now, they have more validation.

ARAMARK Corporation's Healthcare Support Services Division, the company that contracts with the hospital to manage the food service team, presented to Food Service Director Judy Hallisey and her crew the Year 2000 Operations Excellence Award. This was not simply a self-congratulating internal reward from ARAMARK to one of its locations, but a highly detailed recognition of the standards expected of its services both from the corporate level and from clients such as Midwestern.

To qualify for the operations excellence award, managers must meet all client requirements, including operating budgets, staff satisfaction and other objectives through developing the management team and full implementation of ARAMARK core operating systems. But representatives from ARAMARK only did the presentation of the award. Technically, the award was earned through satisfaction of the hospital's administration as well as the patients and their family members.

"We receive completed surveys daily to let us know how well we are doing," Hallisey confirmed, noting that neither party filling out the surveys is lenient when it comes to quality standards.

Representatives from ARAMARK's Chicago area office and its national office in Philadelphia included Ray Welch, president of the healthcare division and Marte Murphy, vice president of market development.

"Out of our 300 operations from across the country, only five qualified for this highest award," said Murphy.

Murphy was one of the presenters of the award in a small ceremony that included a breakfast for all food service employees and guests. Another on hand for the presentation was Midwestern President and CEO, and Cancer Treatment Centers of America COO Roger Cary, who thanked the team for its service and dedication to quality.

"When a patient is feeling under the weather, you want everything to be perfect for them. Our food service is just one of the many bright spots in the hospital," Cary said.

Founded in 1988, Cancer Treatment Centers of America (CTCA) manages cancer hospitals, oncology practices and outpatient hospital-based cancer programs that employ a comprehensive, holistic approach to traditional cancer treatment to empower patients to fight their cancer while maintaining a high quality of life. In addition to medically advanced cancer treatments such as surgery, radiation and chemotherapy, CTCA offers complementary treatments, including naturopathy, therapeutic nutrition, psychological and spiritual support, and oncology rehabilitation. CTCA programs and facilities are accredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations, The American College of Surgeons, and the American College of Pathology, among others. CTCA's Midwestern Regional is the only hospital in Illinois to receive back-to-back accreditation with commendation by JCAHO.

CTCA supports progressive cancer research through its affiliation with the Cancer Treatment Research Foundation, a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization. CTCA serves cancer patients worldwide primarily at its hospitals in Zion, Illinois and Tulsa, Oklahoma. Other facilities are located in Goshen, Indiana; Portsmouth, Virginia; and Seattle, Washington. For more information about CTCA, call toll-free 1-800-FOR-HELP (800/367-4357), or visit the Web site, www.cancercenter.com.

The Gagewood Lions travel baseball program begins its 2001 season at the Warren Township Center when the 10-year-old Little League team hosts Vernon Hills Saturday, May 5 at 2 p.m. Township Supervisor Suzanne Simpson will handle ceremonial duties of throwing out the ceremonial first pitch.

This is the first year the popular Gagewood program is offering a travel team for 10-year-olds. The Lions Club sponsors the program, which involves more than 700 boys between the ages of 6-16. More than 50 teams compete at the T-ball, Little League, Bronco, Pony and Colt levels, including four travel teams. All games are played at the Warren Township Center complex.

The Gagewood travel teams compete in the Mike's Memorial Lake County league. The Bronco (ages 11-12) home opener is May 10 against Gurnee, and the Pony team (ages 13-14) plays its first home game May 14 against Antioch. Colt baseball (ages 15-16) does not begin until after the high school baseball season ends, so their home opener will not take place until the first week of June.

Soccer

The Grayslake Galaxy boys U-10 soccer team earned a point in their first game of the season with a 3-3 tie against the Chicago-area Wings AUYA team. The Wings team took the lead with two goals just inside the post. The Galaxy responded on a great goal from A. Krempely just before halftime.

After changing sides, the Galaxy began to take control of the action, with B. Dingman scoring their second goal off a nice pass from A. Barnard. The Galaxy took the lead 3-2 when A. Jones beat the keeper to the ball and chipped it into the net. The final goal for the Wings resulted from a Galaxy clearing kick ricocheting off another Galaxy defender and into the net. The game gives the U-10 Galaxy a record of 0-0-1.

"Krempely made a great run down the left side, crossed over to his right foot and scored a great goal just inside the far post," commented Alan Jones, the head coach for the Galaxy. "We had excellent games from T. Wolfe and N. Lopez in their first travel games, and all the boys played extremely well moving the ball around the field as a team—we had our chances to win, but I'm pleased with a point."

The Gurnee Gunners U-14 soccer team opened their spring season for league play in extremely windy conditions. But defenders Patrick Glod, Willie Harju, Hunter Beesch, Taylor Holop, Eric Snyder, Luke Schweitzer and goalie Connor Dahlquist were more than up to the task, completely shutting down the Wauconda Chiefs' attack in coming away with a 6-0 victory.

Late in the half, Glod carried the ball deep into the corner and crossed in front of the net where Jason Drake was in position to volley it home for the lead with Beesch picking up the assist.

In the second half, with the wind at their backs, Gurnee took control. The second goal came off of a corner kick by Drake, which was deflected in off of a Wauconda defender. Drake scored again when he was set up with a nice drop pass from midfielder Scott Snyder, with Mike Armour also assisting. Glod then picked up two goals, both of which Snyder assisted on. Eric Ahonen also dished out an assist. Armour finished off the scoring with spectacular header off of a corner kick by Eric Michel.

Midfielders Jack Albers, Shane Kurth, Armour, Schweitzer, Michel, S. Snyder, Andrew Abbott and John Zegar controlled the field of play with their short passing game and their efforts contributed to the dominance that the entire Gunners team displayed.

Harju recorded many fine saves in the second half as he and Dahlquist teamed up to notch the teams' second shutout in as many games, the other game being a 4-0 exhibition victory over Libertyville.

The Warren United Girls U10 soccer team won two games to remain undefeated. In the first game, they beat Buffalo Grove 4-1. Annie Strychalski scored three goals on two assists from Desiree Aber and one from Katie Burke. Lucy White added the last tally on a free kick. Strong defense by Maddie Ogrinc and Karina Hoppe protected keepers Burke and Anna Trout.

In the second game the Blazers shut out the Trevians, 5-0. Trout scored the first goal on an assist from Strychalski. Kelsey Armour assisted on the second goal by Maddie Wilson on a long shot from the corner. Strychalski netted the next two on assists from Rebecca Chavers and Kelly Schoen and Chavers added an unassisted goal on a penalty kick to round out the scoring. The Blazers are 3-0.

The Powerhouse Baseball Academy is now seeking 13-19-year-old players to participate in an intensive five-day instructional showcase camp at Florida's Cocoa Expo Sports Complex, June 24-28. The camp offers high school athletes from Illinois who would like to earn college scholarships, the opportunity to showcase their skills before 15 of the country's top college coaches.

"This is a wonderful opportunity for a serious baseball player to improve his skills dramatically and receive more exposure with college coaches in one week than most players receive in their whole careers," said Al Lopez, the event's director and former college coach at U. of Louisville.

The staff will include college coaches from baseball powerhouses like U. of Florida, Wake Forest U., Florida International U., U. of Alabama, Clemson U. U. of Louisville, The Citadel, U. of Georgia and Hofstra U.

For more information and a free application, visit www.powerhouseacademy.com or call 1 (800) 723-6398. Limited spots are awarded on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Transactions

Warren basketball star Aaron Moore will attend Lake Forest College on a basketball scholarship, beginning the fall of 2001. Moore led the Devils in scoring this past season and was named to the all-conference and all-county teams. He averaged 11 points and 7 rebounds for the NSC and regional champion Devils. He is the son of Diane and Andrew Moore of Gurnee.

"We are thrilled for Aaron. This is a great opportunity which is much deserved. We are convinced Aaron's best basketball is ahead of him," said Warren head coach Chuck Ramsey.

Spring and summer are fast approaching, and the season to ride will soon be upon us. Each summer, motorcycle enthusiasts from all over Illinois head up to Jesse Oaks Food and Drink in Gages Lake for a beautiful 100-mile ride benefiting Glenkirk, a non-profit serving over 1,200 individuals with developmental disabilities. Whether you ride, repair, or sell motorcycles, don't be left in the dust.

The Court Aces, Celeste Pregracke and Becky Gifford, are taking registration now for their outdoor tennis programs which include lessons and league.

Lessons are held at various locations for all ages and for all levels of play from beginner to the advanced player. Group lessons include basic instruction, simple to tough drills, match play practice plus private instruction is also offered.

Classes for pre-high school or high school players are also offered on Tuesdays and/or Thursdays at Heather Ridge in Gurnee. Tough drills plus the mental aspect of the game will prepare those who have already competed. The same will be given to the pre-high schoolers with much emphasis given to the basic part of the game.

Adults are welcome to join the drill and play sessions on Tuesday and/or Thursday mornings at Heather Ridge. Regular lessons are also offered for the adult including evening times.

The deadline for the leagues is approaching. Flexible singles leagues and set time doubles leagues will be played starting the end of May and ending very early August. Players are put in a division of similar ability and play one match a week. Singles players have one week to play their match while the doubles players play on Wednesdays at 9 a.m., or Wednesday or Thursdays at Heather Ridge at 6:30 p.m.

Remember Mom on Mother's Day

A history of the Mother's Day holiday

So who came up with the idea of honoring mothers nation-wide on the second Sunday in May?

Early celebrations

Some historians claim that the predecessor of the Mother's Day holiday was the ancient spring festival dedicated to mother goddesses. In the ancient Greek empire the spring festival honored Rhea, wife of Cronus and mother of the gods and goddesses. In Rome the most significant Mother's Day-like festival was dedicated to the worship of Cybele, another mother goddess. Ceremonies in her honor began some 250 years before Christ was born. This Roman religious celebration, known as Hilaria, lasted for three days - from March 15 to 18!

England's Mothering Sunday

More like the modern celebration of Mother's Day is England's "Mothering Sunday," also called Mid-Lent Sunday, observed on the fourth Sunday in Lent. Some say the ceremonies in honor of Cybele were adopted by the early church to venerate the Mother of Christ, Mary. Others believe the Mother Church was substituted for mother goddess and custom began to dictate that a person visit the church of his/her baptism on this day. People attended the mother church of their parish, laden with offerings.

Also in England in the 1600s, young men and women who were apprentices or servants returned home on Mothering Sunday, bringing to their mothers small gifts like trinkets or a "mothering cake." Sometimes furruty was served - wheat grains boiled in sweet milk, sugared and spiced.

In northern England and in Scotland, the preferred refreshments were carlings - pancakes made of steeped peas fried in butter, with pepper and salt. In fact, in some locations this day was called Carling Sunday.

Another kind of mothering cake was the simnel cake, a very rich fruit cake. The Lenten fast dictated that the simnel cake had to keep until Easter. It was boiled in water, then baked, and was often finished with an almond icing. Sometimes the crust was of flour and water, colored with saffron.

Interest starts in the United States

Anna M. Jarvis (1864-1948) is credited with originating our Mother's Day holiday. She never married and was extremely attached to her mother, Mrs. Anna Reese Jarvis. Mrs. Jarvis was a minister's daughter who for 20 years taught Sunday School in the Andrews Methodist Church of Grafton, West Virginia. Miss Jarvis graduated from the Female Seminary in Wheeling, West Virginia, and taught in Grafton before moving to Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, with the rest of her family.

Anna Reese Jarvis died in Philadelphia in May of 1905. Still unmarried and left alone with her blind sister Elsinore, Anna missed her mother greatly. Two years after her mother's death (1907) Anna Jarvis and her friends began a letter-writing campaign to gain the support of influential ministers, businessmen and congressmen in declaring a national Mother's Day holiday.

She felt children often neglected to appreciate their mother enough while the mother was still alive. She hoped Mother's Day would increase respect for parents and strengthen family bonds.

The first Mother's Day

The first Mother's Day observance was a church service honoring Mrs. Anna Reese Jarvis, held at Anna Jarvis's request in Grafton, West Virginia, and in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on May 10, 1908.

Carnations, her mother's favorite flowers, were supplied at that first service by Miss Jarvis. White carnations were chosen because they represented the sweetness, purity and endurance of mother love. Red carnations, in time, became the symbol of a living mother. White ones now signify that one's mother has died.

Other Mother's Day observances

The first Mother's Day proclamation was issued by the governor of West Virginia in 1910. Oklahoma celebrated Mother's Day that year as well. By 1911 every state had its own observances. By then other areas celebrating Mother's Day included Mexico, Canada, China, Japan, South America and Africa. The Mother's Day International Association was incorporated on December 12, 1912, with the purpose of furthering meaningful observations of Mother's Day.

Official proclamation

The House of Representatives in May, 1913, unanimously adopted a resolution requesting the President, his Cabinet, members of Congress, and all officials of the federal government to wear a white carnation on Mother's Day. Congress passed another Joint Resolution May 8, 1914, designating the second Sunday in May as Mother's Day. The U.S. flag is to be displayed on government buildings and at people's homes "as a public expression of our love

Mothers of all ages are invited to celebrate Mother's Day, Sunday, May 13, with their families at Santa's Village during the theme park's seasonal debut opening.

The 55-acre park, nestled among the tall oaks and pines of the Fox River Valley area in Northeast Kane County, has been a Chicago and surrounding suburbs family summer tradition for 42 years. The park features three theme areas: Coney Island, Santa's World and Old McDonald's Farm.

Santa's Village bills itself as "the best value in family entertainment" because it has an all-inclusive admission price of $19.95 and offers free parking, free picnicking and free admission to children age two and younger. Once inside the park, guests have unlimited use of more than 30 thrill and children's rides, live shows and a barn petting zoo with pony rides. Park guests can also challenge their skill on arcade games, browse souvenir shops, or eat at restaurants, picnic areas and fun food kiosks. Plus, no visit would be complete without a special visit with Santa Claus.

Following Santa's Village's grand opening on Mother's Day, the park is open weekends and Memorial Day in the month of May, daily beginning June 2 through August 26 and weekends and Labor Day to September 23.

When the weather heats up, the adjacent Racing Rapids Action Water Park can cool you off. Like Santa's Village, Racing Rapids features an all-inclusive admission offering unlimited use of two, 50-foot-long free standing water slides, the Twister Tube Slide, a smaller children's waterslide, Bumper Boats, Fun Island children's play area, the Lazy River Tube ride and the Auto Kid's Wash. Guest can also wind dry their hair while testing their driving skills on the Gran Prix Go-Karts.

Racing Rapids is open daily June 16 through August 26 and Labor Day weekend. Admission is $13.95 per guests for age three and older.

HISTORY

and reverence for the mothers of our country." President Woodrow Wilson issued the first proclamation making Mother's Day an official national holiday.

So now what?

If your mother is still alive, take care to shower her with special attention this Mother's Day. Visit her. Phone her. Send her a card. Give her flowers. Get her gourmet chocolates. Buy her something you know she's been wanting. But don't wait until after her funeral to let her know how much you've appreciated her! ## How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

Q: I am writing to you for my son who is currently a student at SIU. He is to be returning for the summer in mid-May and has found himself in a dilemma. Last summer, he was hired on through (name withheld) on an Internship Program which allowed him the opportunity to earn money and college credit at the same time during the summer months. About a week ago I received a call from my son who said that he contacted the corporation to arrange for a date to start working this summer and was told that the person in charge of the Internship Program was no longer with the corporation. My son asked for me to contact the corporation to see what was going on but I got a total run-around. A friend of mine told me about how you have helped others with employment questions and told me to contact you to see if you could help find out who my son is to contact. I have enclosed the necessary information below (withheld). I hope to hear from you soon as time is running out. Thank you for your time. G. H. Libertyville, IL

A: I have spent some time looking in to the situation through the Human Resource Specialist of the division your son was with last summer. As your son told you, the person who was in charge of their Internship Program is no longer there, however, there is another individual that is currently in charge. He, however, was familiar with the situation, yet did not have information that will be favorable. According to his records, your son failed to turn in his Internship papers that he received last year at the exit interview that he attended. They know that he received the papers, because they have his signature showing that he signed for them while in the office on his last day. The papers indicate that they were to be returned by a certain deadline in January, in order to be considered on a preferred status for return internship. The papers also included instructions necessary for him to contact the office by a certain date to be sure the papers arrived. Your son failed to do so. The HR Specialist made it clear that each Intern is fully prepped on the operations of the Internship Program and what their responsibilities are. Unfortunately, your son's Internship program is now void and will not be renewed this year. As I have been told, his has been given to the next in line. The only way for him to get back into their program, is to start from scratch. But be prepared I am told. There is a waiting list. The HR Specialist had little else to say, however we both agree that receiving an Internship, no matter where it is from, should not be taken for granted. One of life's great lessons... never assume Internships are not as easy to come by as some students may think, and having an "in" with a company may help, but won't keep your Internship going necessarily. I would tell your son to start lining up interviews for a summer job now and not to wait until he returns home. It is unfortunate that he has lost his internship but he did learn a valuable lesson on the importance of reading instructions, and following through. For future knowledge, winter and spring breaks are a great time to try and secure summer employment.

Home staging plays role in selling, interior design

By PATRICIA L. JOHNSON

Nestled in a corner of Fox Lake is Artisan's Alley, an emporium owned and operated by Bobbi Burger. Artisan's Alley is located at 7 Nippersink Blvd., directly across from the Fox Lake Metra train station and contains an abundance of collectibles, gifts, flower arrangements and home accessories.

Bobbi consigns space to local artists and the store is located next to the alley, hence the name "Artisan's Alley". Businesses contained in Artisan's Alley consist of The Ivy Cottage, Juliet's Balcony, Kurt's Claim to Fame, Little Treasures, Lakeview Studio Designs and Creative Image Interiors.

Creative Image Interiors is an interior redesign, home staging and virtual reality makeover service provided by Bobbi Burger, an interior design consultant and graduate of the Sheffield School of Interior Design.

Although "interior redesign", is a new term to our area, it is a rapidly expanding service available to the existing homeowner and quite popular on the West coast. The consultant basically rearranges what you already have in your home to make it more functional for you. Bobbi will perform what is known as a "walk through", similar to what a home inspector does for $125. This service will provide you with a mailed written checklist indicating recommendations. Further service prices are then negotiated.

Home staging is essentially the same service, but instead of rearranging your home to meet your requirements, Bobbi looks at your home through "buyer's eyes". Bobbi is also a licensed real estate agent and her expertise in that area gives her the extra bit of insight needed to determine what might appeal to a potential buyer.

Information such as the location of your home, the floor plans, the positives and negatives of your home, the age group of the stereotyped buyer, what people are looking for in various stages of their life and the neighborhood where your home is located are all keys to how she will rearrange your home so it will be more appealing to the potential buyer. There is no cost for this service if your home is listed with RE/MAX, Advantage Realty, in Antioch. Bobbi's fees are then included in the listing fee.

Sometimes the changes are subtle, as adding a hint of color here and there, or floral arrangements to brighten a dull room or hide unsightly fixtures. Bobbi's

'Look' determines way home office arranged

By PATRICIA L. JOHNSON

Have you been toying with the idea of purchasing home office furniture and didn't know where to begin?

John Zeletski, manager, of Night Moves Bedrooms And Desks @ Home, located at 821 W. Rollins Rd., Round Lake Beach, provides planning and purchasing insights.

According to John, your first step is to determine what furniture you will need to accommodate existing equipment. Most home offices are going to have basic computer equipment consisting of the CPU (central processing unit), monitor, keyboard and mouse. If you have a printer, scanner, or other peripheral your furniture will also have to accommodate those auxiliary devices. Do you need a lot of storage space for manuals, brochures or office supplies? Will your business be generating a lot of documents that need to be filed?

Once you've determined your requirements you can move on to the next step, which is to decide how you want your home office to look.

Do you want a computer desk, or an executive flat top desk? Do you want an enclosed area or would you rather have a lot of open desk space? Would you like hutch storage for books or would you rather have a bookcase?

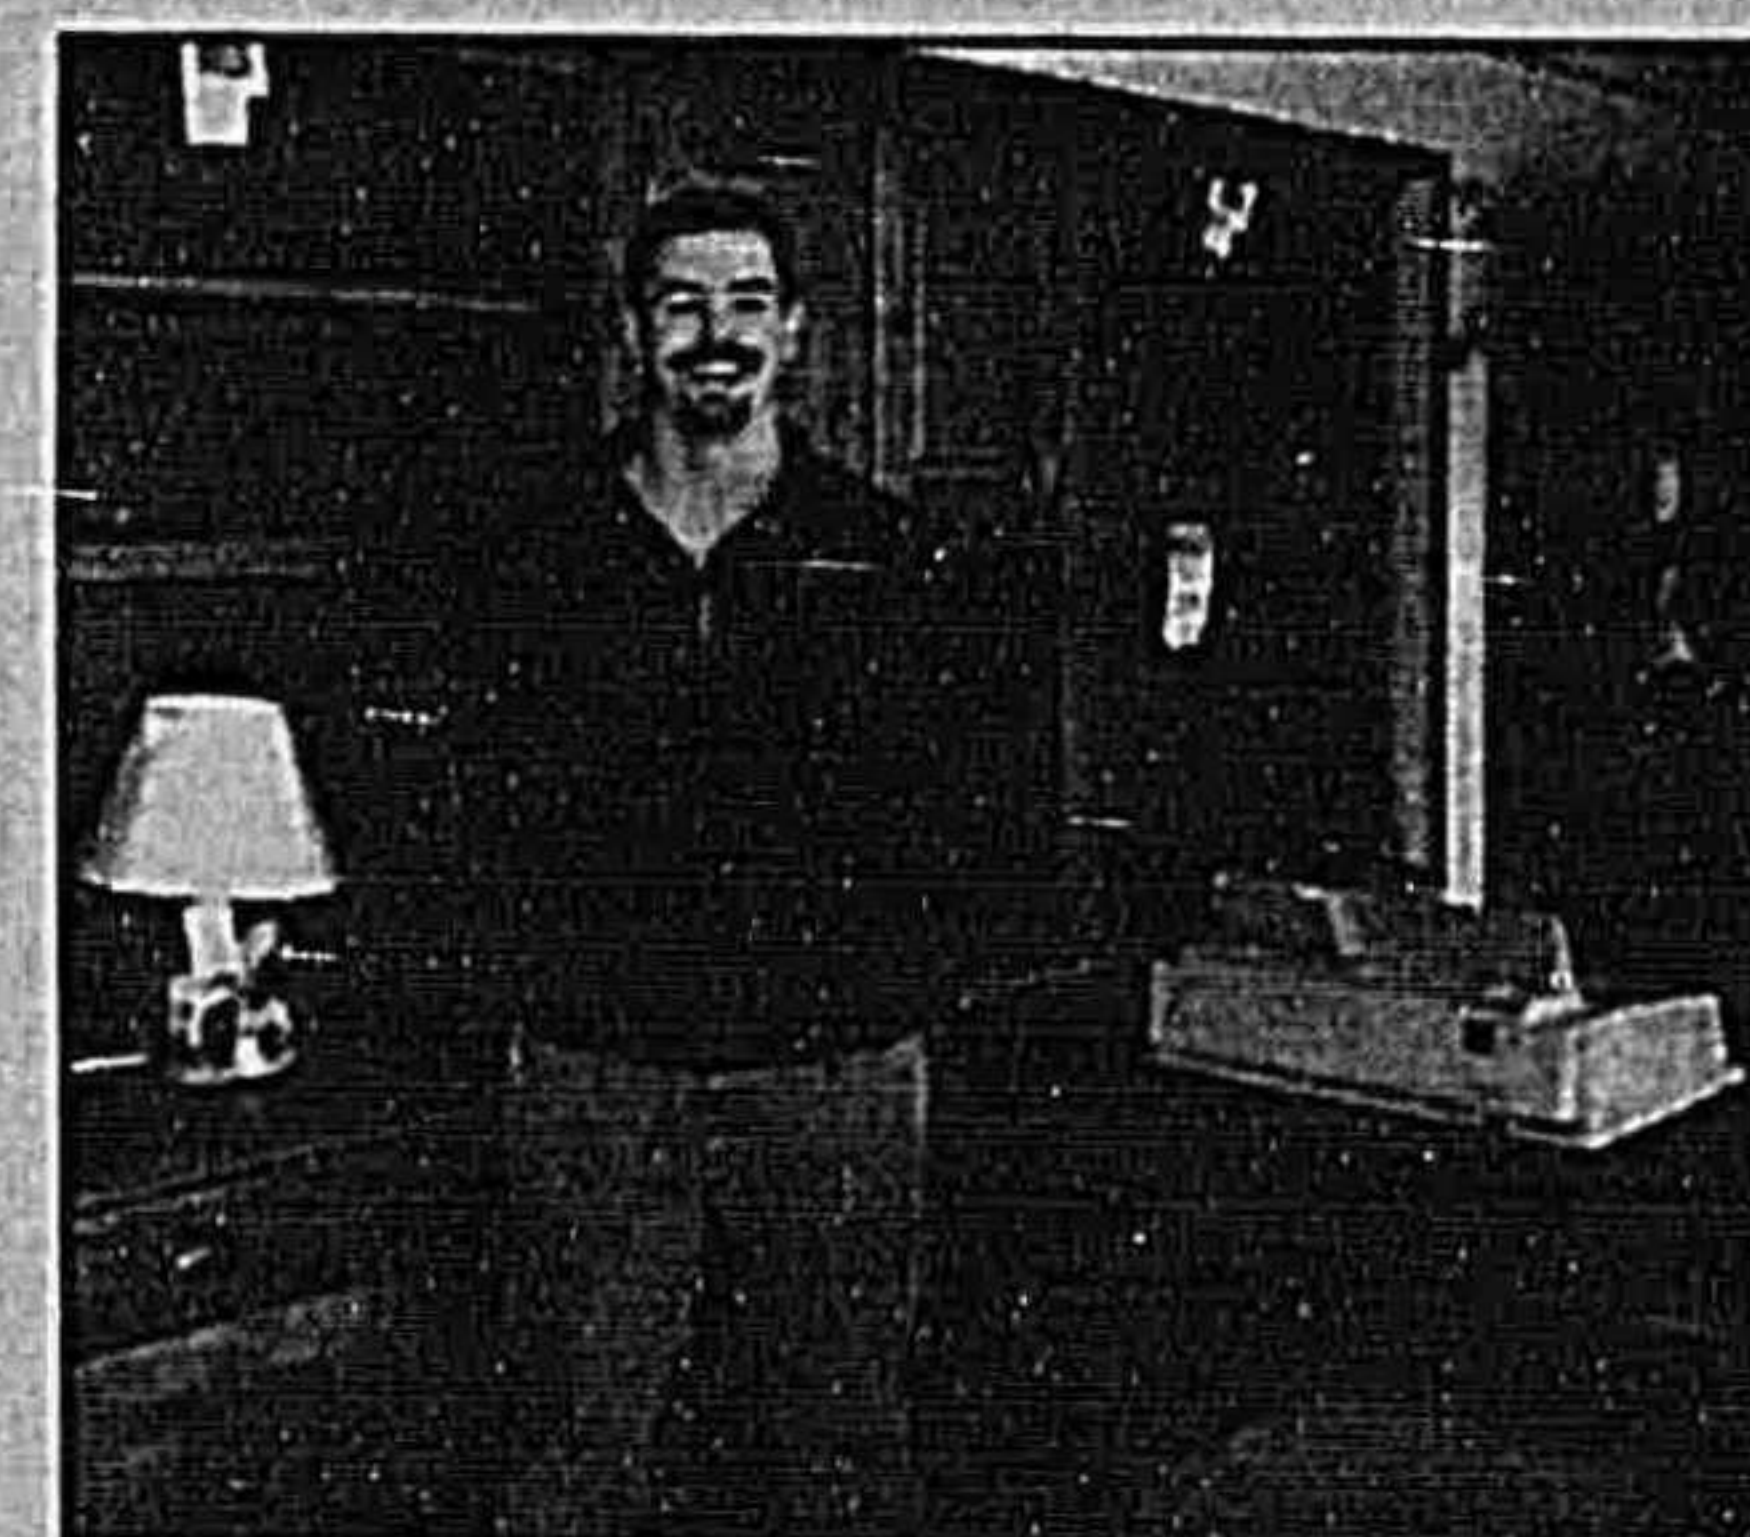

Whatever your choices your basic requirements will probably be a desk, a chair and a two-drawer file cabinet. If you anticipate a lot of documentation you may want to start out with a couple of 2-drawer lateral file cabinets. Whatever your needs you'll be able to find what you're looking for at Desks @ Home.

Desks @ Home carries a complete line of Aspen furniture, including computer desks, executive flat top desks, corner units, hutches, credenzas, file cabinets and bookcases. With few exceptions the majority of Aspen office furniture is all solid wood, with oak plywood, oak finished veneer and finished sealed lacquer.

The Aspen line of Home Office furniture comes in contemporary, mission and traditional styles and carries a lifetime warranty on all hinges and wheel glides. John describes the Aspen line as being "built to last" and states that Desks @ Home has never had a piece of Aspen furniture returned.

Desks @ Home is open Monday-Friday from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m., Saturday, 10-5 p.m. and Sunday from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. You may call John Zeletski or Paul Schindel, the owner at 546-0222 with any questions you may have.

ARTISAN'S ALLEY

use of the tree and floral arrangement in the photo hides the fact that there are unsightly pipes going from the floor to the ceiling in the corner of the room. Sometimes changes are far more significant as your house may need a "face-lift" in the form of new paint, new carpeting or new lighting fixtures. In this instance, Bobbi will make arrangements for the work to be contracted and her fee becomes a percentage of the labor and material charged.

The final service offered by Creative Image Interiors is virtual reality makeovers. Digital photographs are taken of your home and through computer imaging the photographs are transformed to show you how changes will look, prior to contracting the work. For example, if you're considering replacing the wood on your home with siding, Bobbi will take the existing photo of your home and enhance it to show you how your home will look after the siding is installed. Bobbi currently provides this service to the Village of Fox Lake as an aid in redesigning the facade of existing buildings.

In the long run services such as interior redesign, home staging and virtual reality makeovers pay for themselves by using a trained professional to suggest what improvements you should make to your existing home to make it more valuable to both yourself and a potential buyer. Artisan's Alley is open from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. or you may call Bobbi Burger at 973-0016 to set up an appointment.

PLANS FOR THE FUTURE

Landmark Designs Home Design Feature: Bradford Pointe

Eye appeal is very important in the looks of a home and the Bradford Pointe (D8160) definitely qualifies in this area. It has three separate room levels with decorative vents matching in each, along with a wide covered porch and classic ranch style lines.

Entry into the Bradford Pointe is directly into the great room. A coat closet faces the door on the left. On the outside wall is a large fireplace, easily shared by the great room and the dining room. On the recessed wall of the dining room is a door opening to the side yard. This area could be developed into a patio or deck, ideal for morning brunches or afternoon picnics.

The entire rear of this home is dedicated to bedrooms. Bedrooms 2 and 3 are stacked with a covered porch running the length of them. They each have a wall closet and bedroom 2 a small built-in desk. On the opposite side is the master suite. The master bath has been divided into two areas, separated by "his or her" sinks. To the rear is a corner walk-in closet, accessible through a pocket door. On the other side of the sinks is a tub. The main suite area is open with a narrow window on each outside corner. Rearrangement of the bedroom furniture is easier with the openness of the suite.

Centrally located near the bedrooms as well as the great room/dining room is a full bath with a tub and linen closet. The linen closet opens into the hall area.

The most important room left in the Bradford Pointe is the kitchen. It is a "U" shaped corner area that has pantries on both sides, making it easier to separate the supplies. A window over the sink overlooks the side yard; bring natural light into the kitchen. Between the counter and the refrigerator is a door that opens onto the side-covered porch, leading to the back yard.

The stairwell to an optional unfinished basement is located in the kitchen area. If the basement is not a second door off the kitchen next to the stairway leads into the two-car garage. The depth of the garage allows for the washer/dryer to be set up on the rear wall. It also gives some area for storage.

The Bradford Pointe has 1,469 square feet of living space, making this an ideal medium sized home. Its spacious interior would allow a lot of room for kids, or for visiting grandkids.

For a study plan, including scaled floor plan(s), elevations, section(s), and an artist

Love of land keys landscaping success

BY NANCY KREMPELY

There is a truism that runs through Mackey Landscapes, Inc., Lincolnshire, that is, a true love of the land and the outdoors.

When explaining why he began his career in landscaping, Scott Mackey, owner, explained "The landscape industry fit. It satisfied the farmer that I believe is in all of us. I always wanted to work outdoors and there is a totally in the enjoyment of watching things grow."

Upon graduating from the University of Wisconsin, Madison, Scott began working at the Chicago Botanic Gardens. After several years it was time for a change and "I thought that I could do it (landscaping) better and smarter and I wanted to have full control."

In the first two years Scott was the sole employee and owner, occasionally hiring two part-time employees. Now, 10 years later, Mackey Landscapes, Inc. counts over 80 employees entailing landscape construction, landscape maintenance and outdoor masonry.

"The enjoyment hasn't left and I think that being an owner is best described by a quote from a friend as 'The excitement of walking on razor blades.' This entails the inherent concerns and worries of being a business owner, but it also means being able to create something in the field that will last forever," spoke Scott.

Four years ago Scott knew that he wanted to expand his business. He has maintained his commitment to excellence by hiring individuals with degrees in horticulture and with extensive experience in the field. "Their youth and enthusiasm keeps me excited. I enjoy their exuberance in the office." John Evans oversees the new construction and masonry side of the business and David Hoxie supervises the maintenance and seasonal decoration end. Both John and David are hold degrees horticulturalists with strong ties to farm communities.

"My first job was at a garden center when I was 13. I grew up on a farm and after changing degrees several times, I realized that I really didn't want to be tied to the indoors. I felt a passion for landscaping and truly enjoy what I'm doing," explained John.

When offered the opportunity to work with Scott as construction supervisor, he decided that this would be the opportunity to launch his career. "I wanted to be involved in all aspects of this growing company. I think we have met all the challenges and, most of all, have survived and flourished." He has seen this opportunity grow. John's department oversees three masonry crews and seven construction crews. Add to this a fully stocked materials yard and fleet of vehicles and machinery it becomes clear that this is a company well prepared to handle all aspects of landscaping.

David Hoxie joined Mackey Landscapes in 1998. "I have a farm background and like working with plants." David oversees the maintenance side of the company. "When I began we had two crews, now three years later, we have six and at the end of this year there will be at least seven. I truly enjoy this aspect of landscaping because things change all the time. It involves a little of everything, annuals, perennials, soil maintenance and diagnosis of problems. Even though I work with the same people year to year, their needs change." To round out the maintenance department, David has begun outdoor seasonal decorations that complement the exterior plantings and house decor.

Through all the changes and all the growth, Mackey Landscapes, Inc., has maintained an intimacy that is lost in so very many businesses today. Instead of losing touch with his employees, Scott believes in knowing them personally and keeping a family feel to this business.

Ten years ago Scott began with a dream and an idea. Through the years his company has grown but has never lost its commitment to excellence. Since 1999 Mackey Landscapes, Inc., has won three Gold Awards of Excellence from the Illinois Landscape Contractors Association. Mirroring his vision is his company's mission statement:

"To passionately create through inspiration and education timeless environments."

Mackey Landscapes, Inc. is located at 430 N. Milwaukee, Lincolnshire, IL 60049, 740-6448. Their hours are 8 a.m.-5 p.m., or by appointment.

Custom area capitalizes on prairie setting

In open space shrinking west Lake County, customized, detached single-family luxury homes still can be formal, often on larger lots.

Once such place is Hawthorn Grove in Hawthorn Woods.

The new neighborhood will include 52 distinctive homes on one-acre lots scattered across 110 acres of rolling, wooded countryside tucked into southern Lake County. According to Carl James, president of Kenneth James Builders, nearly half of Hawthorn Grove will be kept as open space enhanced by a creek rambling through the site. "Our goal is to perpetuate the special ambience of Hawthorn Woods, characterized by open prairies, mature trees, wetlands and wildlife."

Hawthorn Grove is being developed by Hawthorn Grove Associates, an affiliate of Kenneth James Builders, on the south side of Gilmer Road between St. John's Drive and Darlington.

Home buyers will have a portfolio of eight distinctive designs from which to select, ranging in size from 2,538 to more than 4,300 square feet of living space. Minimum lot sizes are 40,000 square feet, but range up to more than 50,000 square feet.

In addition to numerous customizing options that are the hallmark of Kenneth James Builders, Hawthorn Grove has been planned to conform with strict village guidelines that stipulate that the variety of designs and available architectural elevations guarantees that each home will be unique — no two facades will be alike. Homes will be base priced from the low $400,000s.

A long list of standard design highlights includes a masonry fireplace in the family room, oak stair railings, Corian kitchen counter tops, nine-foot first floor and basement ceiling heights, and hardwood or tile flooring in the entry foyer, kitchen, breakfast room, main hallway and powder room. The island kitchen includes a large, informal breakfast area. All Hawthorn Grove homes include three-car garages and many will be available with walkout or lookout basements.

Youngsters living at Hawthorn Grove will attend highly regarded Freemont Elementary School and Stevenson High School, the first high school in Illinois to earn the coveted U.S. Department of Education's Blue Ribbon three times, as well as the special emphasis award in arts education in 1998.

One of Hawthorn Woods' major amenities is a park system that includes a 27-acre community park with soccer fields, baseball fields, tennis courts, a basketball court, walking trail, playground, band shelter, concession stand — and parking for 100 vehicles.

Landscapers have work before arrival of spring

To get Month-by-Month Landscaping Hints and/or locate a landscape contractor from your area, go to the Illinois Landscape Contractors Association web site at www.ilca.net and check the side-bar "Finding a Landscape Contractor." Examples are:

Combat high home heating and cooling energy cost by planting trees. Properly placed trees around a home can improve energy efficiency by 20% to 25% annually when compared with the same house in an open area. Plan upgrades now to take advantage of the spring digging period. Plants that should be dug in spring before leaf emergence include alder, beech, birch, oak, pear, redbud, red maple and willow.

Avoid heavy pruning of spring flowering plants such as forsythia, lilacs, magnolias, crab apples and several others. Pruning at this time removes flower buds set to bloom in the coming months. Do however lightly prune these plants to bring color inside your house. Make cuts at 45-degree angles and soak clippings indoors in warm water for about eight hours. Place in vases with water in a bright location. Blooming will take place in one to two weeks.

Do not prune evergreen branches that appear to be dead. Much of the discoloration is result of cold temperatures. The affected needles may be dead, but there is a good chance the buds are still alive.

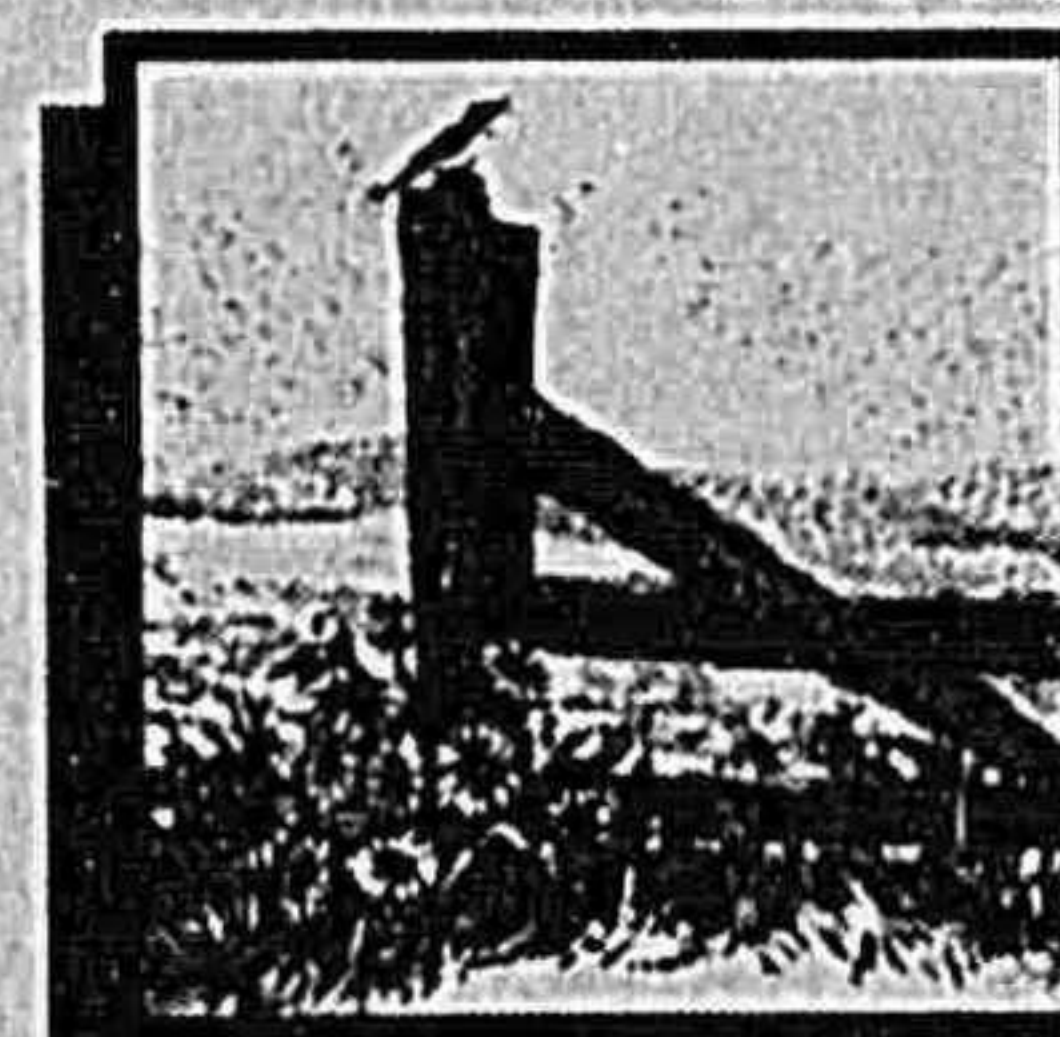

Available also from ILCA is the free four-color brochure "your Landscape Begins With A Dream" on planning, budgeting and creating outdoor spaces. Call Monday through Friday, 630-472-2851, write ILCA, 2625 Butterfield Road, Suite 204W, Oak Brook, IL 60523 or e-mail lodell@ilce.net.
